Doig, Getis and Pietrinferno Win in Annual School Election Races

Joan Doig, Judith Getis and Gail Pietrinferno were elected to the Princeton Regional School Board in a light-weight election that saw only 23% of the Princeton electorate turn out to vote. Last year, 34% voted.

The $7.9 million budget passed, but by a closer margin than last year and in four of the town's 21 election districts, it even lost by a vote or two.

For the school board, the election tips the present 6-3 balance to 5-4. Mrs. Pietrinferno, the victorious Township candidate, was backed by supporters of school board members Winthrop Pike, Philip Cruickshank and William Marvel, who often constitutes a three-member minority. She defeated Frederick Bauer.

Mrs. Doig and Mrs. Getis, the two Borough candidates, were supported by those who favor the present school board majority. They defeated Andrew Shelpuk and Hawley Waterman.

Next Monday, at 8 p.m. in Community Park School, the newly elected board members will join the six incumbents and the board will formally reorganize.

Considering the 5-4 balance it is regarded as likely that either George Fitzgerald or Hannah Fox will be elected president, succeeding Robert Bierman, who has now gone off the board.

Commenting after the election Tuesday night, Mrs. Getis said she thought a lack of factionalism in the campaigning made a smaller turnout.

In the Borough, where she and Mrs. Doig won, only 19 [illegible] of the electorate voted. There are 6,085 registered voters in the municipality and 1,176 of them cast ballots.

Late in the campaign, leaflets supporting Mr. Waterman and Dr. Shelpuk urged Borough householders to vote for the two candidates or "the votes of undergraduates could set your tax rate." But student interest in this election and the student vote, were negligible. In District One, where many undergraduates live, Mrs. Doig and Mrs. Getis did poll 59 and 58 votes respectively to Mr. Waterman's 9 and Dr. Shelpuk's 5, but in District Six, where most of the Borough's black voters live, the proportion was similar, with the Doig-Getis vote 58 and 56 to the Waterman-Shelpuk 6 and 1.

Dr. Shelpuk and Mr. Waterman scored their heaviest wins — 118 each — in District Three, where Mrs. Doig and Mrs. Getis won their highest totals, too: 90 and 91. This is Dr. Shelpuk's home district, in the Scott Lane - Hamilton - Hawthorne area. The two losing candidates also carried District Eight which includes Westcott Road and Stanworth, and District Nine, which is Sergeant, Pelham and Wilton Streets.

Doig-Getis totals were spread fairly evenly among the ten districts, whereas the Shelpuk-Water-

Public Housing Approved But Appeal Is Likely

Princeton Township's 100 units of public housing received unanimous approval Monday night when Committee voted, 5-0, to endorse the Zoning Board's recommendation for a use variance. Three opponents, through a spokesman, said Tuesday they may take court action as a result of the decision.

The variance is needed because the 14.5-acre plot at the junction of Mt. Lucas, Ewing and State Road, is in a residential zone where the zoning ordinance does not allow multi-family homes.

Bernhet Yedlin the developer acting for the Borough Housing Authority which is, in turn, acting as agent for the Township, plans 50 units for the elderly and 50 for families on the site.

Switch? But Mayor Jay Bleiman, after the vote, suggested another possibility. Before long, Committee will be asked to act on a second use variance recommendation from the Zoning Board—one that would allow Edward C. Kopp III to build 33 apartments on a two-acre Terhune Road site.

Why not, mused Mayor Bleiman, combine the units to make 133, and rearrange them? The 50 elderly tenants could be housed on Terhune Road, within walking distance of Shopping Center conveniences. The Mt. Lucas site could be used for a mix of 83 units, combining public housing and the private housing Mr. Kopp plans.

"It is an interesting alternative," the mayor suggested, "and perhaps achieves more in the way of community values."

He pointed out that only the two developers could work out such a plan. Thomas C. Jamieson Jr., attorney for the Housing Authority and Mr. Yedlin, said he would explore the possibilities.

The Yedlin project must now go before the Township's site plan review board and the Regional Planning Board. Committee's approving resolution pointed out that site-plan may question the number of units, if the number is related to environmental design standards.

Opposition. Legal action against Committee could come from James L. Green, 618 Ewing; William Brower, 628 Ewing and James Pietrinferno 237 Mt. Lucas, who obtained last December a temporary restraining order designed to keep Committee from holding a public hearing on the use variance, and the Zoning Board from holding a hearing on the Authority's request for some bulk variances. The order was lifted by a Superior Court judge and both hearings were held.

Philip D. Papier, Jr., attorney for the trio, said Tuesday that his clients have 45 days to decide whether to take new action. If they decide to proceed against the Township he said, they would charge that the project would change radically the character of the neighborhood, and would also claim that insufficient evidence had been presented.

The original restraining order was based on Mr. Papier's claim that the Zoning Board's favorable recommendation for a use variance came after the legal deadline. When Mr. Jamieson files an answer, Mr. Papier said, the two lawyers will ask the court for a decision. "If we lose," Mr. Papier said, "we'll appeal."

TRAFFIC? ABOMINABLE!

206 & Shopping Center. "Why people continue to put up with it is beyond me!" exploded Steve Slaby to Township Committee Monday night.

Mr. Slaby, who lives at 469 Ewing, was talking about North Harrison traffic at Shopping Center exit entrances. He had just driven down, metaphorically speaking, from Ewing Street where, he said, the Township should erect "dangerous intersection" signs warning of the Route 206 junction. An amber blinker should be erected on Ewing as well.

"Why is this Ewing 206 hazard permitted to continue?" he demanded.

"It is a disgrace," Mayor Jay Bleiman concurred. But he reminded Mr. Slaby that the state holds absolute control over safety signs. Mr. Slaby said he was aware of state traffic power, but since Ewing is not a state road, he thought the Township might be allowed to put up signs without state approval.

Municipal attorney Gordon Griffin said no, the state still had to approve, even when a road didn't belong to them.

State to be Consulted. Regarding the Shopping Center, Mayor Bleiman said Committee was working on a regulatory ordinance for the Center's interior traffic flow. He point-

Marvel to Remain on School Board

Reports that school board member William W. Marvel will resign are unfounded, Dr. Marvel said this week. He added that he wasn't ruling out a possible resignation during 1973, but he made that comment before Tuesday night's election results were known.

Dr. Marvel is usually regarded as part of the board minority. If he resigns during the year, the board itself would appoint his successor. Presumably the new five-member majority (reduced from six by the election) would appoint someone sympathetic to its own views, possibly even defeated Township candidate Frederick Bauer.

A Marvel resignation, unless it takes place very late in the year, could therefore shift the board back to its old 6-3 balance. His school board term has one more year to run.

For the past year, Dr. Marvel has been working in Philadelphia and he has just assumed new responsibilities in connection with the 1976 bicentennial (see "People in the News," page 20.) It is his professional situation which has given rise to rumors that he might resign from the board and move to Philadelphia.

mate ticket peaked sharply from the 118 in Three to the half dozen in Six.

In the Township, 2,273 voters, or 26% of the 8,701 registered, voted on Tuesday. Districts cannot be examined quite so closely here as they can in the Borough because election workers combined the votes for Districts Two, Eight and Eleven, all of which had polling places in Johnson Park School.

In District Three, where young faculty live, Mr. Bauer got more than three times as many as Mrs. Pietrinferno [illegible] She [illegible] carried [illegible] Lake area, [illegible] to 116, and her combined Two Eight Eleven total [illegible] the [illegible] Township portion of the Township [illegible] was [illegible] Mr. Bauer's 111.

The Township's block-by-block District One [illegible] Mr. Bauer 81 to Mrs. Pietrinferno's 20. She won in the Rusfield Drive-Cedar Road District Ten with 91 to Mr. Bauer's 76, and he took block District Five by 176 to 97.

Township District Two voted down bond buildings by 147 to 136. Three Borough districts rejected the budget. Three voted [illegible] 140-133 against bond building, and District Four, the [illegible] "two" streets of [illegible] Pine, Maple and Chestnut [illegible] voted against current expenses, 54 to 44.

[illegible] he would confer with state highway officials on the Route 206 problem "as soon as the budget is out of the way."

Mr. Slaby, an engineering professor at the University, said he didn't think the Center's traffic problems could be solved "by amateurs". Engineering students, he proposed, might be willing to tackle the project under the guidance of transportation engineer Paul M. Lyon, University professor, whom Mayor Bleiman had just named to the site-plan review board.

Harry Burnett, State Road resident appointed a few years ago to the Traffic Safety Committee because of his outrage about State Road traffic, told Committee "I've been making noise about the 206 problem at every Traffic Safety meeting, and it's futile!"

He added that the newly-approved public housing project partly bounded by State Road, "hasn't helped" traffic.

Traffic Light Inadequate. A traffic light at Harrison and Valley is due for summer construction. Administrator Joseph R. Nini reminded the speakers. "It's not enough." Mr. Slaby shook his head. "The intersection needs to be completely re-designed."

In other business, Committee introduced an ordinance regulating public conduct in Open Space areas, and approved Mr. Lyon's appointment. He replaces Suzanne Kuter, who has resigned from the site plan board.

PHS to Appeal Probation Ruling Against Its Basketball Team

A ruling Thursday by the executive committee of the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association has censured Marvin Trotman, Princeton High School basketball coach, for unsportsmanlike behavior and placed Princeton High School on probation for one year.

PHS Athletic Director Norman VanArsdalen said Tuesday that an appeal has been made by Princeton High School to the same executive committee to hear the case over again. Probation means PHS can finish out its regular basketball season (five games remain) but will be ineligible to compete in the annual NJSIAA post-season tournament.

The action by the NJSIAA Committee stems from the PHS-Ewing game of January 12 at Ewing which had to be stopped in overtime when two players began fighting and fans from both side came onto the court and a melee ensued. Throughout the game, Trotman had engaged in heated verbal exchanges with referee Raymond Fresella. He was finally ejected midway in the overtime period after Fresella had called a second technical foul against him.

Later, Princeton High School was informed that a hearing on the incident would be held by the executive committee of the NJSIAA, based on reports of the game submitted by Mr. Fresella and Ewing school officials. The hearing was held last Wednesday.

William Brennan, attorney for Mr. Trotman, PHS principal Patricia Wertheimer and Superintendent Philip McPherson requested a postponement of the hearing. It was denied, Dr. McPherson reported in a press conference Tuesday. PHS was informed of the ruling of the executive the next day—much sooner than it expected.

"I am surprised, if not shocked that the team was put on probation," said Dr. McPherson. "Timing problems are considerable. We want fast action on our appeal so they can play in the tournament, starting February 25."

Focussed on Trotman. The hearing by the executive committee was attended by Dr. McPherson, Dr. Wertheimer, Mr. Trotman and his attorney and Mr. VanArsdalen from PHS. Also Ewing High School principal, J. B. Housman and Mr. Fresella. Dr. McPherson reported that it focussed almost exclusively on the behavior of Mr. Trotman and on action dealing with his behavior taken by PHS school authorities.

Mr. Van Arsdalen said that Ewing officials were fully satisfied with the action taken by PHS concerning Mr. Trotman's behavior. They were so informed by Princeton a few days after the incident.

Dr. McPherson declined to say, specifically, what the school had done in dealing with Mr. Trotman. "It was handled as a personal matter and it is not appropriate for me to comment," he said.

However, students were shown a film, "The Empty Stadium," which deals with crowd control and what happens when situations like the PHS-Ewing incident arise at athletic events. Mr. Van Arsdalen reported that school officials also talked with Mr. Trotman, the players on the team and with interested adults in the community about the incident.

At the hearing, Dr. McPherson recalled, "we didn't contest that his (Mr. Trotman's) behavior might be outside the rules. The rules are quite precise and elaborate." He said that it was Mr. Trotman's language, not physical violence, that was at issue.

The game itself—which PHS lost, 47-42 — was an important one, especially for Princeton. For the first time in many years PHS has a winning team, one capable of defeating Ewing which has trounced the Little Tigers for years with frustrating regularity. The Ewing gymnasium was jammed by those who wanted to see how the favored PHS quintet would fare.

Early in the contest, Mr. Trotman found himself objecting to calls made by Mr. Fresella. Several times he left the bench to protest. On one occasion he could be heard ordering Mr. Fresella to stay in the other end of the court; he didn't want him near the PHS bench.

Late in the game, Mr. Trotman left the bench to check something at the scorekeepers' table and kicked the table with his foot while returning to his seat. Meantime, the tension increased still another notch as PHS let a small four-point lead escape and the game went into overtime.

Ejected From Game. Midway in the three-minute overtime, Mr. Trotman jumped to his feet to protest another Fresella call. When he refused to go back to the bench, Fresella called a technical. When Mr. Trotman persisted, jaw to jaw, Mr. Fresella hit him with a second technical and ordered Mr. Trotman to leave the gym. Mr. Trotman had no sooner left when a fight broke out on the floor between Princeton's Larry Miller and Ewing's Tom Rust. This was all the emotion-wrought fans needed to spill out of the stands.

Mr. Trotman said later that he did not know until the following morning that the game had been called with a minute and ten seconds to play. Athletic Director Van Arsdalen and his Ewing counterpart, Steve Muench both witnessed the game. Mr. Van Arsdalen, a basketball referee himself, commented later that he, too, would have stopped the game under the same conditions.

Dr. McPherson explained that the censure of Mr. Trotman means that he has been formally reprimanded. "It does not place any restrictions on his coaching at this time."

Mr. Trotman, who scored more points than any other PHS player when he played during the 1950s and is considered to be the most outstanding court player ever produced by PHS, took over as coach of the team last January, replacing Larry Ivan. Currently, Princeton High School has won 14 games, lost five and is in first place in the standings of Mercer County schools. It is scheduled to replay Ewing here on February 20.

Waste Disposal Plan Praised and Attacked

Mercer County's municipal officials have been offered a proposal to dispose of their community's solid waste at the "unheard" of figure of $2.35 per ton.

The details of the comprehensive solid waste management system were unveiled by the Mercer County Improvement Authority at a special meeting Saturday with representatives of the county's 13 municipalities.

The proposal's reception by Lawrence officials and residents has been chilly to say the least.

The Lawrence Township Council has begun arming itself for a probable court fight. At its Monday night agenda meeting the Council instructed Township Attorney Joseph Stonaker to draft a "strong resolution" against the plan.

Meanwhile the Authority also ran into rough going at a meeting with Township residents at a meeting at Lawrence High School. Mr. Howard and engineer Donald Robbins of Day & Zimmerman, consultants, spent nearly half of the three hour session trying to answer several angry questions concerning the environmental impact of the landfill.

Possible impact on tax rate ables was also mentioned.

"The sooner the better!" was Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley's comment this week on the possibility of county-wide disposal of solid waste.

Princeton now has a two part solid waste disposal system. Garbage is compacted in a special machine and then carted by truck 39 miles to a Mount Holly landfill. It is a joint Borough Township University operation under the Joint Sewer Operating agreement between the three entities.

Transporation, 78 miles round trip, is a major part of Princeton's cost, plus the operation transforming garbage into a compacted mass. Under Mercer County's proposed system, Princeton's trucks could go directly to the new landfill, the mayor pointed out.

Eugene V. Howard, chairman of the authority, said the price per ton for the collection and disposal of solid waste was unheard of anywhere in the country for a comparable facility, which meets all ecological standards.

He said the authority was prepared to immediately negotiate a contract to assume the area's waste disposal burden and to do it so economically the plan should be "irresistable."

"Savings Unmatched." "The savings generated by this regional system make it irresistable, and cannot be matched anywhere. If ever there was a moment where it is demonstrated that no municipality can do for itself what a regional system such as ours can accomplish, this is that moment," he declared.

The waste disposal system to be used under the Authority's plan is landfill. The site of the modern landfill is to be in Lawrence. A small portion of land in Hamilton Township will be used for the ultimate mode.

The Lawrence Township site was chosen over several others because of its central location, the absence of residential housing, and because it rests on sub standard land, which will be improved by the landfill.

The tract is situated on 401 acres in Lawrence bounded by Route 1, the Provence Line Road, and the Pennsylvania Railroad line. The remaining 50 acres is immediately contiguous in Hamilton Township in the Great Bear Swamp.

Buffer Zone. It was emphasized by Mr. Howard that the landfill will be screened from view by a buffer zone consisting of trees and fencing. He noted that from an ecological viewpoint the landfill would be the finest known to science.

"Together with our engineering consultant firm Day and Zimmerman, we have developed and operational system that guarantees the integrity of the ecology," Mr. Howard said.

Among the devices that will insure this, he asserted, is the utilization of a membrane placed beneath the fill, which becomes an impervious barrier to any toxic materials, gasses, or leachate which could infect the underground water supply.

This same membrane was used by the contractors who erected the World Trade Center to insure that the Hudson River would not flow into the basement of the huge building.

Incorporated with the membrane is a series of sophisticated safeguards that will alert the operators of the landfill to any possible breakdown in the system.

Also included in the overall plan of operation will be a county-wide recycling system. Toward this end a 20 acre area has been set aside for the assortment and storage of these materials. A Reclamation Management Committee has been created to work with the Authority and local governments to establish uniform recycling ordinances.

Rebates Planned. The program will insure additional revenues, which will be returned to each municipality in the form of rebates, thus reducing the tonnage costs even further. Mr. Howard said the exact amount of revenue to be generated from this source has not yet been computed, but he expects it to be substantial.

Mr. Howard made it clear that the Authority would pay for any relocation costs caused by the moving of the Ewing, Lawrence Sewer Authority's lines from beneath the site of the landfill. These lines will be placed immediately on the periphery of the site, and will in no way impair the use for which they were originally intended.

Additionally, Mr. Howard said, the Authority is working with ELSA to handle the disposal of their sludge. This will save them about one million dollars, which has been earmarked for the proposed erection of an incinerator in Lawrence Township to handle the sludge problem.

In analyzing the $2.35 per ton disposal cost projected under the Authority's plan, Mr. Howard said it was based on all 13 municipalities joining in the regional management system as proposed.

New Jersey's typical February weather is giving us a choice of all three these days, with more to come.

The Man expects additional precipitation (form as yet unidentified) by Thursday. There are rumors that the first big snow of winter will arrive with the weekend, but at midweek, such reports were just speculation. Temperatures will remain generally in the high 20s and low 30s.

TWO MEETINGS SET

On "Downtown." Princeton residents are invited to gather this Saturday morning (9:30) in Borough Hall for the second informal meeting on proposals of Charles Agle for adjusting the Central Business District.

A more formal gathering, also open to all, will be held Saturday, February 17, at 9:15 a.m. in Trinity Church. For this meeting, the Borough has scheduled two discussion panels—one on parking and one on downtown open space—and will hear a report from Princeton Community Housing, Inc. on its plans for Borough apartments.

"We'll update the Agle plan as these hearings go along," explained Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley this week. "for example, that idea for necking-down Nassau Street to make it narrower, with wider sidewalks on the north side, is very far ahead, in some Utopian time when traffic is reduced."

Parking—or rather, a solution to parking—has top priority, it was emphasized at the first Central-Business-District meeting held last Wednesday night. Mayor Cawley said that, although he hopes the new community-wide Master Plan can be completed by early fall, plans for parking solutions, including a possible Parking Authority, needn't wait until then.

At Wednesday night's meeting, residents asked how soon parking garages could be built, and who would pay for them. Estimates indicate that the garages would pay for themselves, with only starter money needed from taxpayers.

Speakers also wondered how much development of the C B D. was advisable, and urged that the "character" of the center of town be preserved.

BOROUGH BUDGET

Presentation Tuesday. The Borough's budget, its exact millions still unknown, will be introduced this Thursday at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall.

Introduction is only a legal formality. Public comment will be invited at the public hearing next month, on Tuesday, March 13, and the whole budget itself will be explained in detail at Borough Council's meeting next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Also next Tuesday, Council will hold public hearing on five ordinances: prohibition of parking on the east side of Library Place between Stockton and Hodge; joint purchasing with Mercer County; shift of rental housing inspection from Engineering to Health department approval of a revised official Borough map and adoption of an up-to-date fire code.

TWO STUDENTS CHARGED

With Marijuana Possession. A 21 year-old Princeton University student and a 16-year-old Princeton High School student have been charged by Borough police with possession of marijuana.

The university student, Matthew Lenning was arrested Monday by Detectives Timothy Hulzing and Thomas Michaud and charged with possession of under 25 grams of the drug in his room in 1937 Hall. He is scheduled to appear in Borough court this Wednesday afternoon.

Chief Michael Carnevale reported that Mr. Lenning's arrest was the result of an investigation by Ptl. Charles Harris of a breaking and entering into his campus room on January 21. Ptl. Harris signed the complaint summons.

Recycle That Phone Book

Keeping the environment clean is everybody's business, and to help the cause New Jersey Bell is urging Princeton area customers to cooperate with the Conservation Coalition by adding old telephone directories to scrap recycling drives when new directories are issued.

The recycling campaign, coordinated by the coalition, coincides with the distribution of new directories, which began February 1 for Princeton subscribers.

Customers may bring obsolete books to the telephone payment agencies and business offices listed on page 10 of their directories. Receptacles will be available in these offices until February 16.

The Coalition will place additional receptacles in schools where students will be able to drop the directories. Additional copies of the new phone book may be obtained, free of charge, by calling telephone company business offices.

The high school student, a girl and a Princeton resident, was arrested Friday morning at 11:20 by Det. Anthony Ranfone, who charged her with allegedly smoking marijuana on high school grounds near the auditorium.

She was also found to be in possession of over 25 grams of marijuana—an indictable offense. After being processed by Borough juvenile officer Douglas Watson, she was released to the custody of her parents.

STUDENT IS KILLED

In Friday Crash. A 20-year-old Trenton driver was killed during Friday's heavy rainstorm when his compact car was crushed by a truck in Franklin Township.

According to police, Bruce W. Jackson was traveling on Ridge Road near Perrine Road and had just signaled another car to slow down because of flooding when the crash occurred. A truck, behind the car coming in the opposite direction that Mr. Jackson had just cautioned to slow down, pulled across the center line to pass.

When the truck driver saw Mr. Jackson's car approaching he ran off the side of the road striking a telephone pole. The impact raised the tractor trailer from the road and Mr. Jackson's small car plowed underneath it, killing him instantly.

The victim was a sophomore at Rutgers University and a part-time employee of the Trentonian newspaper. He was also studying at IBM in Dayton.

SUSPECT ARRESTED

By Township Police. Quick action by two Township policemen who turned their patrol car around to pursue a car leaving a driveway early Friday morning with its lights out resulted in the arrest of a Trenton man.

Currently being held in Mercer County Jail on $10,000 bail — $7500 for carrying a concealed deadly weapon and $2500 for breaking and entering — is Robert L. Gadsden, 22. He is scheduled to be arraigned in Township Court this Wednesday.

While on routine patrol around 2 a.m., Sgt. Robert Heacock and Pfl. Olindo Carnevale observed a car without lights leaving the driveway of a Lawrenceville Road home make a left turn and head toward Princeton.

They turned their patrol car around, gave chase and stopped the car on Stockton near Quaker Road. While Sgt. Heacock questioned the driver, Pfl. Carnevale noticed a holster and belt lying on the floor of the car on the passenger side. It was empty but Sgt. Heacock then noticed a .22 caliber pistol on the front seat next to the driver. It was fully loaded and the hammar cocked.

"If there had been only one man in that patrol car he would have been dead," commented an officer.

En route to police headquarters, the two patrolmen heard a police dispatcher report that a home on Lawrenceville Road had been entered and robbed.

Earlier, the victim, whom police declined to identify, called Township police to report that his home had been entered. Asleep upstairs, he had been wakened by his dog running around downstairs and went down to investigate. He saw a man, he said, wearing a light blue jacket run out the front door of his house. He chased the man across a neighbor's yard where he got into a car and drove off.

The victim told police that the thief had taken his wife's purse, which contained no money, from the kitchen and a $140 stereo from the living room. He had entered the house through an unlocked rear door. The stereo was later recovered on the front lawn.

At 10 that morning, police executed a search warrant obtained from Judge Theodore T. Tams and searched the suspect's car. The stolen purse was found on the back floor of the car beneath some papers, police said.

COUPLE IS ROBBED

By Thug Seeking 'Fix'. A 22-year-old Princeton resident and his 18-year-old female companion were robbed on Chorlton Street at 1:10 Saturday morning by man who told them he needed money for a fix.

After taking $7 from the couple, the robber ran off on Charlton Street. He was described as six feet tall with a goatee, wearing a black leather jacket, black shirt and flare trousers. Police reported that the robber told the couple he had a gun and held his hand in his pocket. "They did not see a gun," police said.

THREE ARE FINED

For Leaving Accident Scene. Three Princeton area residents were fined by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. in Borough Court Monday for leaving the scene of an accident.

Judge Tams fined William Stecklein, 42, Windsor Castle, Cranbury, $110 because injuries were involved. Walter K. Foster, 30, 710 Kingston Road, paid $50, and James J. Ward, 46, 56 Montadale Circle, paid $30.

Franco Menella, 17, 33 Harris Road and Mildred G. Swenson, 66, 136 Randall Road, each were fined $15 for careless driving. Speeding cost Sandy R. Kerr, 27, Northgate Apartments, Cranbury, $27.

For obstructing passage, Peter W. Kinney, 18, 71 Fackler Road, was fined $15.

"Tempest" At Bank

Depositing a little interest in the community on account of their March 1 opening, actors rehearsing for McCarter's production of "The Tempest" will appear this Saturday from 10 to 1 in the new New Jersey National Bank of Princeton, 194 Nassau.

McCarter isn't saying which members of the cast will do their banking Saturday, but it could be Nicholas Kepros, who's playing Prospero; Clarence Felder who is the Caliban; Dwight Schultz, who is portraying Ariel, Mark Metcalf, the Ferdinand, or Francesca Rainer, making her professional debut as Miranda.

BIRTHS

Two Sets Of Twins. Twin girls were born on January 31 at Princeton Medical Center to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Warmke of Line Road, Belle Mead, and on February 1 to Mr. and Mrs. James Emens, 22-B Warren Street, Jamesburg. Twenty-three children were born last week; six were boys.

ATTENTION
OCCASIONAL FLOWER BUYERS

THERE'S AN OCCASION COMING UP!

Twenty-three years ago when Don Allen storted his flower business in the front room of his home, he promised himself thot he was single handedly going to change the flower buying hobits of over 100,000 people. He wos younger then — bright eyed and bushy toiled — and he just knew if he kept telling his story — FRESH FLOWERS REASONABLY PRICED — that one doy he would be a power in the flower world. Well there is nothing like persistence. Already Don Allen single handedly (and about $50,000 worth of advertising loter) has changed the flower buying habits of 38 people — WITH ANOTHER 14 PROBABLES!! You con see this is going to toke o little time, folks. So this week we're going to concentrate on the people who ore known to blow a buck or two on special occosions. The occasion we have in mind is "VALENTINE'S DAY" — Wednesday, February 14th. Just thought we'd mention it.

We're here onyway — ond you know where you are. So if there is any little thing we con do for you — just give o whistle.

FOR PHS SCHOLARSHIPS: About $1,700 in scholarship aid for Princeton High students is represented in that check Mrs. Henry Freedman is receiving from Sally Goldfarb. Sally is top magazine subscription seller at PHS. Michael Godnick is looking on because he is promotion and house manager for PHS' Drama 73 group whose production of the musical "Of Thee I Sing" raised money for scholarships.

MORE FUNDS SOUGHT For College Scholarships. With a total of $1700 in student-to-student grants already slated to be awarded in June by the Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation to the Class of 1973, the Foundation is currently seeking community-wide support.

High school students themselves have raised funds thru the magazine subscription drive in the fall and the benefit performance of "Of Thee I Sing". The donation has been presented to Mrs. Henry H. Freedman, president of the Foundation, by Sally Goldfarb, top magazine subscription salesman, and Michael Godnick, promotion manager and organizer of the benefit performance of "Of Thee I Sing".

In the two years since the Foundation has been in existence, it has administered grants totaling $15,000 to 56 Princeton High School graduates, from Borough and Township and the West Windsor - Plainsboro sending district, who required financial assistance to pursue post-high school education or training. The awards have ranged from $100 to $1000.

Grants are awarded on the basis of scholarship, character, promise of future service and achievement, and financial need. The selection committee consists of a chairman and three members appointed by the executive boards of the Princeton High School Parent-Teacher Association and the Foundation, as well as a faculty member from the Guidance Department.

The Foundation is a tax-exempt corporation established by the Princeton High School PTA in 1970 to administer scholarships to needy and deserving PHS seniors. Donations may be made out to the Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation or P.R.S.F. and sent to the high school.

The immediate goal of the Foundation is to help all seniors who need financial aid meet their first year of post-high school education or training. In the future, the Foundation hopes to extend assistance throughout the recipients' entire post-high school education. The long range goal is to develop an endowment fund the income from which can provide scholarships each year.

Of the 56 PHS graduates already assisted by the Foundation, 43 attend four-year colleges, eight attend junior colleges, one attends a music academy, one attends nursing school and three have completed one year secretarial school.

In addition to Mrs. Freedman, the Board of Trustees of the Foundation includes Mrs. Charles C. Adams, vice president; Mrs. Kenneth C. Negus, secretary, and Mrs. John J. Horan, treasurer.

Also, Mrs. William F. Besser, Joseph L. Bolster, Mrs. Henry S. Broad, Miss Florence M. Burke, Mrs. William T. Cahill, Henry N. Dreary, Mrs. Richard A. Katen, Mrs. Archie G. Lummis, George L. Petrillo, Mrs. Winthrop S. Pike, Mrs. Lionel V. Sylvester, Mrs. Lewis V. Thomas, Mrs. Richard E. Thompson, Mrs. Theodore M. Vial, Mrs. James E. Ward and Mrs. William B. White, and Miss Cyndi M. Purvis, student trustee.

HALF-WAY MARK REACHED By PHS Choir Fund. With five months still to go, the Princeton High School Choir fund is past the half-way mark and going strong. A rock concert at the school this Friday, 9, and a dance at the Holiday Inn on Saturday, are expected to add considerably to the total

Several concerts are planned for February and early March, including a violin concert by Nadia Koutzen and a Gospel concert performed by the United Voices of Princeton. Details will soon be available regarding a raffle and a children's matinee is planned for February 17. In addition there will be a rummage sale, an art show and wine-tasting, and other social-fund raising activities.

The 84 Choir members are taking baby sitting and other odd jobs. Parents of the Choir members, who have pledged $32,000, of the total $60,000, required, expressed the hope that the community would support the effort by attending the various functions, and by direct, tax deductible contributions.

Many members of the Princeton community have already contributed to the fund, according to Chairman Alfred Seitz. He mentioned a gift from a Princeton resident who had received an unexpected windfall and passed it along to the choir; a party in honor of an early graduate; admission was charged and the proceeds donated; a former choir member

READY, BREL?

Alive and Well? This Thursday (7:30 p.m.), P.J. & B will open its second musical of the season, "Jacques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris."

The place, of course, is McCarter. "Brel" will play again Friday at 8:30, and Saturday at both 7 and 10 p.m. Milton Lyon is directing.

In place of the usual cast-of-thousands, Mr. Lyon has assembled ten singing actors who will interpret 25 songs by the Belgian French song writer. Brel's lyrics tell of war and death and degredation, as well as of love, and he has sometimes been called "the conscience" of the French. And perhaps of others.

The "Brel" cast consist of Charles Brown, Rod Brown, Liz Filly, Steve James, R.T. McDowell, Bill Mulvaney, Helen Rogers, Robert Schmon, Linda Shea and Reid White.

Musicians accompanying them will be Don Boroson (piano); Woody Allen (guitars), Steve Filly, (bass guitar); and Mark Tenzer, percussion.

Lowell Achziger designed the set, John McLain the lighting and Ruth Floyd, the costumes.

CHEECH, CHONG

At Alexander. Tommy Chong, said to be Chinese, and Richard (Cheech) Marin, said to be Hispano American, formed their comedy team in, of all places, western Canada.

Now they are in New Jersey, ready for two appearances in Alexander Hall on Saturday, February 24: 8 p.m. and 11 p.m. The folksinging team of Tufano and Ginmarese will open the program.

Chong, born in Edmonton, Alberta, started in show business as a guitar-player in rhythm and blues bands in western Canada. Marin, born in Watts, California and the son of a Los Angeles policeman, went to Canada after graduation from college and met Chong.

The pair joined an improvisational group, "City Lights," and remained together as a comedy team after the group disbanded. Their first two albums won them "gold records."

MERCE COMING BACK

With Dance Company. Dancer-choreographer Merce Cunningham will come back to Princeton with his company on Sunday, February 18 at 8 p.m.

Cunningham's style involves the use of pure chance (the actual flip of a coin) to determine key movements and their order. His choreography is also connected closely with decor, which has been executed over the years by such artists as Jasper Johns, Andy Warhol, Frank Stella and Marcel Duchamp.

MUSICAL ON TAP

At Westminster. This Weekend Westminster Choir College students and faculty will perform the musical "The Boy Friend" this Friday and Saturday.

This light musical spoof on the Roaring Twenties will be presented in the Westminster Playhouse beginning at 8 p.m.

There is no admission charge but, because seating is limited, tickets will be required. They may be obtained by calling the Choir College, 921-7100.

TOM PAXTON TO SING

At Mercer County College. Young American folk singer Tom Paxton will appear in concert at 8 p.m., Wednesday, February 14, in Mercer County Community College's new theater at the West Windsor campus.

Among the songs from his program are humble songs of delicate melody like "Wish I had a Troubadour" and

Admission to the show (payable at the door) is: no charge for MCCC students presenting I.D. cards; $1 for other students presenting I.D. cards; $2 for MCCC Alumni presenting alumni cards; and $3 for general admission.

AUDITION!

For Children's Play Inigo Snurl, the villain; a king named Trembley; a hero called Richard Harding Bush; Trembley's queen, Rotunda and a certain Dr. B. Wigge Lipfondle — juicy roles, all — will be up for audition as Street Theatre gets ready for its one-act children's play, "Richard Harding Bush, or The Rocco Coco Bean," by Cleve Haubold.

Auditions will be held this Sunday and Monday at 7 p.m. in Christ Congregation Church, Walnut Lane and Houghton. Anyone from seventh grade on up, may try out. Rip Pellaton is directing.

The play will tour the Princeton area during March. Organizations who would like to sponsor it are invited to call Ron Brockway, 799-1689 after 5 p.m.

The story is laid in the kingdom of Twitchenberg, whose downfall is in the best interests of the villainous prime minister, Inigo Smurl. Besides characters listed above, there are Lady Persimmia, Jonathan, Angelica and two would be revolutionaries named Alf Rubble and Bertie Rouser.

WRITTEN A PLAY?

You, Too, Could Win. Scripts of any length on any subject by anyone who isn't a professional playwright, may be submitted to Street Theatre's annual original-script contest.

Playwrights should keep in mind that the winning play will be given outdoors (next summer), to a general public on Street Theatre's mobile trailer stage. Money for elaborate costumes and scenery is limited, so write your play accordingly, says Street Theatre.

Scripts may be sent to Rip Pearson, 208 Ewing Street, Princeton, with a stamped, self-addressed envelope. They may be presented in person any Monday evening (7-10 p.m.) at Christ Congregation Church, where Street Theatre holds weekly meeting.

The winner will receive a cash award and, of course, fame. The exact amount of the prize won't be set until all the entries are in: one very fine play could bestow a winner-take all sum on its author, or several good plays could each earn smaller sums. Last year's winners won $50 and $25.

PERIWIG CLUB SET

With Production of "Child's Play. An atmosphere of dread and nightmare will prevade the stage of Lawrenceville School's Kirby Arts Center when the long-run Broadway melodramatic hit "Child's Play" is presented by the Periwig Club for two performances, Friday and Saturday, February 16 and 17 at 8:30 p.m.

The spine-tingling tale takes place in St. Charles's, a Catholic prep school for boys, in which six men on the faculty, three of them priests and three laymen, are trying to come to grips with a cryptic kind of malevolence that seems to be sweeping through the students. This is not the generation - gap rebellion of youth, but something supernatural, some secret vortex of undefined evil that has possessed the boys.

English Exchange Student Jonny Bodansky and Russ Etling will be seen as two of the teachers who have a lingering feud between them over teaching methods. Mr. Bodansky, intent on pouring knowledge into the kid's heads, is stern and demanding of them, ever-ready to flunk a shirking student or insist on suspension for minor misconduct, while Mr. Etling is the lenient pal of the boys, the beloved Mr. Chips of the institution.

Ewen Gillies has the role of one of the priest-teachers, who has a dry sense of humor and an apparently dry tongue, since he tipples mildly. Rudy Andriani and Brian Watkinson have the roles of two other frocked teachers, and Rusty Nype will portray the athletic instructor who helps solve the perplexing mystery of the evil that has defiled the student body.

Joe Chambliss, David Lechner, Steve Mareus, and Joe Alinway will be seen with others as leaders of the boys who menacingly stalk the school's halls, listen at keyholes and break into inexplicable violence. Peter Chandler will direct.

DANCE PROGRAM SET

For Theatre Intime. An evening of dance by Princeton University students will be held at Theatre Intime Sunday evening, February 25 at 8 p.m.

The concert will feature a variety of dance styles from classical ballet to modern dance and will be directed by Ruth Langridge. Tickets are available at Theatre Intime.

PLAYHOUSE

Cries and Whispers (now playing), which swept the New York Film Critics' prizes, comes to Princeton in one of its first play dates outside of New York City.

VALENTINE'S DAY: Country Mouse posts a valentine outdoors to remind all true lovers that February 14 is just a few days away.

IT'S NEW To Us

A TIMELY WORD

For Valentines. All kinds of valentines — young, or mischievous, or sentimental — are to be found at the Country Mouse, 164 Nassau Street. Also neat little remembrance gifts.

Among the cards, a demure miss who says, "I love you as much as you love me." Inside, the old question, "How much do you love me?" On another, a Renoir-type girl is serenaded by a striped-shirted young gypsy, and the simple words, "Love to you" are inside. There are amusing little animals on some, old-fashioned sentiment on others.

For the forceful types, Country Mouse has "Love One Another" lettered on a slim board covered with hand-painted flowers. (For others, "Bless this Mess.")

Little gifts, with a certain whimsy and charm that is very typical of C. Mouse: swiss cheese writing tablets, with envelopes to match 89 cents each). Sam McDowell's quaint drawing of a drowsy mouse resting on a wedge of cheese is in the corner of the paper.

Perhaps a ladybug stapler (95 cents); or a copy of "I Ching," the book of changes, an ancient Chinese text for fortune telling ($1.50) or maybe a Springbok crewel kit, offering an interesting stitchery project on the subject of flowers. Size 14" x 18" ($3.50).

Among the candles, Richard Nixon himself in an eight inch likeness. He's lightly caricatured in a smiling pose. There are hand-dipped candles in a profusion of colors and scents and sizes. Nearby is a Woodbury pewter bowl

For a sunny window, colorful small bottles in the old apothecary jar shapes, as well as a blue one shaped like a fish. Prices of most are under $2. Nearby is a small statuette of Snoopy nuzzling his master, Charlie Brown. "Happiness is having someone to lean on," is the lettering. ($4)

Mouse clips and frog clips (35 cents) to tidy up a desk; and mouse picks with short steel shafts for buffet use. Small pottery pieces by an unnamed but witty potter and, of course, a number of quaint, amusing, workable miniatures for young people to play with.

Jewelry. The handmade jewelry at Country Mouse includes some interesting earrings for pierced ears — the man in the moon, four-leaf clovers and Buddhas, all very minute, in silver. Others are feather-light danglers featuring a set of four concentric rings in the African mood. We noticed attractive, curve-cornered triangles. (up to about $4).

There are some handsome rings, muted in theme and simple in execution. A fleur-de-lis, for example, in relief on a copper oval $4. There are ivory rings with very tiny scenes on them; bangle bracelets (three for $1).

Also among the miscellaney, "Gourmet candles" in inedible grape, coffee and liquorice "flavors;" a slim volume of Elizabeth Browning's "Sonnets from the Portugese," ($1.50), and a box of custom designed golf balls, with a golfer's best known profanity lettered on each. $1.50)

TRAINS, TRAINS, TRAINS At The Switching Point. Fine model railroad equipment in abundance has come to town through a new shop,

It's New To Us

"The Switching Point," which opened last Thanksgiving at 242 Nassau Street. You'll find it on the left as you drive in the direction of Kingston.

"You'll have to go to New York to match it," a young man interposed while we were talking with some of the firm. We learned that all ages are dropping in there probably because it is so extraordinarily well equipped. A Marine pilot comes up from Greenville. He's in brass in HO," we were told, which is a cryptic way of saying that the Marine is using the brass models, which frankly are frightfully expensive, but very, very durable.

"An elderly gentleman comes in and buys for his mother, who's 80," Sandra Quarles told us. "She collects N-scale trains." A 14-year-old girl is a regular customer as are innumerable boys.

The two most popular sizes are HO and N-scale, we learned. And there's a new size coming on strong, Z scale, which is a sub-miniature in size.

"A lot of the kids know N-gauge as "Postage Stamp trains," Mrs. Quarles told us. "We have probably more rolling stock and scenery models in this than anybody else in the area."

Services. The Switching Point does repairs. It will special-order for you. It will also accept in trade your present trains if they are in good condition. This is when somebody is changing over from HO to O, or N, or even trying Z. There are plans for model clubs, one in the afternoons for kids, and another in the evenings for adults. These would include instruction on assembling the scenery models — some of which are simply a matter of gluing plastic segments; others are made from strips of wood, requiring more skill.

We learned that a number of people are into "the coffee table idea," which is assembling a model railroad pike on a coffee table with a removable plastic cover. N and Z gauges are designed for such small layouts.

Asking about the new Z scale, we found that it is made by the oldest model railroad manufacturers in Germany, Marklin. This is the first year it has been available in this country. The stock includes streamlined passenger cars, old Bavarian coaches, European - style freight cars. You can set it up on a 2' x 3' board. There are scenery accessories to scale.

It is possible to run a train set with miniature overhead wires, reproducing the electrified runs of the Penn Central and others. At The Switching Point, we saw one of these engines, the posts for the wires and how the wire is rigged. The engine will also pick up current from the third rail. Made by Marklin, it duplicates a Dutch freight engine. The size is HO.

Favorite Trains. "We have seen some fantastic layouts," Leonard Morganelli told us. "There's very little in model railroading that you can't do. Every railroad design in the United States can be duplicated. If you grew up in Georgia and you loved the Southern Railway, you can match it in replica.

"Some people are European railroad nuts," he continued. "I'm planning to build my own version of the Oriental Express." An interested customer everybody kibitzes at The Switching Point said he was interested in the Blue Train which is no longer blue.

There's another size, we for

Years Of The Theatres

It is an awesome film, with Ingmar Bergman giving an overwhelmingly beautiful if somewhat disturbing account of the relationships between a dying woman, her two sisters and her faithful servant.

The tone is set from the opening moments when the dawn sends rays of light filtering through the trees. We meet Agnes (Harriet Andersson), a woman in her thirties, who is painfully dying of cancer while being watched over by her sisters, Karen (Ingrid Thulin) and Maria (Liv Ullmann) and her servant Anna (Kari Sylwan). In moments free from pain, Agnes writes in her diary, remembering her childhood. Her sisters relive their own memories, all bitter, frustrated and sexual.

The cinematography of Sven Nykvist is easily one of the great instances of classic camera work added to which is Bergman's extraordinary sense of detail. Between cast and director one senses great rapport. As individuals, the women each shine through their own particular strengths and emotions. The pinnacle is Miss Andersson's portrait of Agnes so powerful in every moment she appears on screen that one wonders if this isn't one of the greatest performance of all time.

GARDEN

1776 (now playing) is the film version of the hit Broadway musical. It has a pretty fair amount to say about the goings on in the Continental Congress held in Philadelphia during the summer of 1776.

The cast includes feisty John Adams, lovesick Thomas Jefferson, John Hancock with his fly swatter, Benjamin Franklin with his aphorisms. Towering over them all, though never seen, is General George Washington, described by one delegate as "the groom t m n on this continent."

Adams and Franklin are determined to push to a vote the question of independence from Great Britian. Howard Da Silva's portrait of Franklin gives the film a high mark of style, and William Daniels as Adams is a fire brand to remember, he has just enough humor left to redeem himself.

The screenplay is witty, indicating that the delegates were a rather bawdy bunch. As a musical, there are many plusses. The pace of the film, however, is on the slow side got to mention, HO-N3, a narrow gauge HO, which another partner, Filip Forsbeck, says allows for a tighter curve in the track layout, "and it's more fun because there's very little that's readymade."

The keen modelist goes for the handmade brass engines, which he either paints himself, or has painted to his specifications. Among the models is the famous Union Pacific "Big Boy" steam engine.

The shop has basic HO for young enthusiasts at prices from $16 up. You can spend as much or as little as you want, there's such a large choice.

Models to add realism to the layouts are mainly by Campbell and by Timberline. Among them, a grist mill, a "Scarlet Slipper" saloon. And in the very wide variety of plastic models, the Kiwi designs.

James Quarles, a member of the firm was busy with customers, but his son Tom who's a railroad buff and, naturally, working in the store whenever he can, showed us the Amtrak set by Rapido in N-gauge. This is the very newest. . . .

SECOND CONCERT SET

Shehadi, McKinney Featured. Les Muses en Series continues Sunday February 18, with a concert by baritone Fadlo Shehadi with Mathilde McKinney at the piano. The program begins at 8:30 in the Unitarian Church of Princeton.

The program is composed of works by Schubert, Faure and Poulenc. Mr. Shehadi who holds a doctorate in philosophy from Princeton, has performed with the Montreal Opera Company, CBS Trans-Canada and has appeared here with the Princeton Symphony Orchestra, the Princeton Chamber Orchestra. He has also appeared with the Chamber Orchestra of Philadelphia and the Bachman Choir of the Detroit Symphony. He is professor of Islamic philosophy at Douglass College.

Mrs. McKinney and Mr. Shehadi have presented recitals together for more than 10 years. She is former chairman of the piano department at Westminster Choir College and has participated in many music activities in Princeton.

Admission is $2. Proceeds from Les Muses en Series will be used to restore the 100-year-old Steinway presented to the church 10 years ago. Further information is available from Mrs. Bart Hoebel 921-6612.

CONCERT SCHEDULED

To Feature Works by Satie. The Friends of Music will present an all-Satie program, entitled "Irreverent Inspirations," on Friday, February 16, at 8:30 in the Woolworth Center Rehearsal Room, featuring Doug Smith '73, pianist, Mimmi Fulmer '74, pianist and mezzo soprano, Geoffrey Michaels, violinist, and Carter McAdams '73, dancer.

Works performed will be Satie's, "Trois Morceaux en Forme de Poire," "Descriptions Automatiques," "Trois Gnossiennes," "Celle Qui Parle Trop," "Choses Vues a Droite et a Gauche," "Ludions," "Trois Nocturnes," "Embryons Desseches," "Trois Gymnopedies" and "La Belle Excentrique." The concert is open to all without charge.

BENEFIT CONCERT HERE

To Aid Managua Victims. A concert will be presented for the benefit of the victims of the Managua earthquake on this Friday, at 8 p.m. at Princeton University's Alexander Hall.

Performers who have volunteered their services include jazz recording artists Lloyd McNeil and Jay Mason and other musicians of all styles. A donation of $2 ($1 for students) is required.

The concert is sponsored by Princeton University's Ad Hoc Committee for Nicaraguan Relief. All proceeds will go to the Ananda Marga Universal Relief Team (AMURT), an all volunteer organization presently operating in Managua.

Further donations may be sent to AMURT care of Peter Shenkin, Frick Chemical Laboratories, Princeton, N.J. 08540. Donations of hand and power tools, light trucks and four wheel drive vehicles are also welcome, but contact Mr. Shenkin before sending these. All contributions are tax deductible.

AMURT, in conjunction with the Nicaraguan Government and other relief agencies, is focusing its effort in three areas: the building of low-cost housing for homeless people; providing food, nutrition classes and basic hygiene instruction, and aiding the reconstruction of cottage industries.

It is the intention of each member and supporter of AMURT that each of their acts of service may be a reflection of their desire to serve the Supreme in all people.

CONCERT SATURDAY

To Renaissance Music. The Friends of Music will present a concert for five voices on Saturday at 8:30 at Woolworth Center. The singers, known as a group as Musica Alta, perform Renaissance music rarely done in authentic fashion.

The members of Musica Alta are: Ann Sease Monovois, graduate student, soprano; Mimmi Fulmer '74, mezzo soprano; Edward Parmentier, graduate student, counter tenor; Norman Rubin, instructor at Princeton, baritone; Stephen Westergan '75, baritone. The director of Music Alta is Robert Moreen, graduate student.

For their program on Saturday, they will perform works of Spanish composers of the 16th Century. The concert is free and open to the public.

SOPRANO TO SING

Sunday Afternoon. Shirlee Emmons, soprano, will present a recital on Sunday at 3:30 in the Woolworth Center Rehearsal Room, sponsored by the Friends of Music. She will be accompanied by Stanley Sonntag, pianist.

A voice teacher at Princeton University for the past eight years, Miss Emmons has chosen an all-Spanish program for her recital on Sunday. She will perform songs from the 14th to the 20th century. In a group of songs by Manuel de Falla, Miss Emmons will be assisted by a student group conducted by Robert Moreen with Ellen Mellow, Susan Feder, violins; Susan Haig, viola; Nancy Neubert, 'cello; Les Timpe, bass; Christine Curcio, Janet Lazar, flutes, and Jub Miller, harp.

Miss Emmons studied with Elizabeth Schumann at the Curtis Institute. She received her degree from the Lawrence University Conservatory in Appleton, Wisconsin, and did further study with William Herman and Evelyn Hertzman in New York. Miss Emmons also studied in Milan, Italy, on a Fulbright Scholarship.

The recital is free to the public.

SUNDAY MEETING SET

By Musical Amateurs. The next meeting of the Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs will be held this Sunday afternoon at 5 p.m. at the Unitarian Church.

James Litton will conduct a reading of the Faure Requiem along with a shorter work by the same composer "Cantique de Racine." These works will be done with chorus, orchestra, and soloists baritone Allan Knotts and soprano Mary Kemp.

Anyone who enjoys choral singing is invited to participate in this informal reading which is not in any sense a performance. Those wishing to attend should contact Mrs. Michael Ramus at 924-4266 so that proper arrangements can be made for music and refreshments.

AUDITIONS SCHEDULED

For "Pirates of Penzance." The Princeton University Gilbert & Sullivan Society has scheduled auditions for its spring production of "The Pirates of Penzance", at the Woolworth Music Center, Room 9, on the following dates: Thursday, from 7-10 p.m., and Saturday, from 3-7 p.m.

"Pirates" will be performed on the University Campus in early April, and will be directed by Tonia Vogel Jorgensen and Dr. Stephen D. Stellman. All are invited to audition.

STUDENTS, TEACHERS SET

Lawrence Band. When Mr. Louis M. Cordas, musical director of the Lawrence Intermediate Home and School Association production of "Annie Get Your Gun", raises his baton, he will be conducting an unusual combination. Members of the 31-piece orchestra have been chosen from Lawrence High School student body and north Princeton Lawrence Intermediate School and Lawrence Intermediate School teachers.

The musical production, with a cast encompassing parents, teachers, and friends of the Lawrence Intermediate School, will be presented March 30-31, at the Lawrence High School South Campus Auditorium, 2155 Princeton Pike. Tickets will be available as of March 1. Students, $1; Adults, $2.

ARRAU HERE

With Romantic Program. Compositions by Beethoven, Liszt and Schumann will be played by the Chilean pianist Claudio Arrau when he comes to Princeton for a recital in McCarter on Monday, February 19, at 8:30 p.m.

His program will open with the Beethoven Sonata in E-flat, Op. 27, No. 1, followed by Liszt's Sonata in B Minor in one movement, a work with which Arrau has been identified for many years. The pianist will conclude his programs with Schumann's Carnaval, Op. 9, which the composer dedicated to Liszt.

Arrau, who celebrated his 70th birthday February 6, gave his first recital in Santiago, Chile at the age of five. He made his debut in the United States in 1923 when he was 20, playing with the Boston Symphony under Pierre Monteux.

MARILYN HORNE NEXT

In Series II. The great soprano, Marilyn Horne will be heard in the third concert of Series II of the Princeton University Concert at McCarter Theatre Monday evening at 8:30.

Star of the Metropolitan Opera, La Scala, Royal Opera House Covent Garden, Lyric Opera of Chicago and the San Francisco Opera, Miss Horne has been described as possessing one of the most beautiful natural voices in the world today. Her recitals are spectacular, complete with standing ovations and rave notices and she is among that rare handful of singers who can fill Carnegie Hall to standing room only.

For her concert in Princeton, Miss Horne will sing works by Gluck, Handel, Brahms, Debussy, Dvorak and a concert aria to be announced.

Tickets are available at McCarter. Student tickets at 7 may be obtained one hour before the concert.

COLLECTION PLANNED

Door to Door for Bach Mai. Saturday, February 24 has been named Bach Mai Day by the Fund for Peace Education, 163 Nassau Street, and other peace and church groups. Collections will be made door to door as well as in shopping areas throughout the Princetons by well-identified volunteers.

Contributions made that day will be used for medical expenses and the reconstruction of Bach Mai, the largest hospital in North Vietnam, bombed and completely destroyed in a series of B 52 raids in December.

According to Nina Alexander, coordinator for the day, "Rather than have scattered collections, we are putting all our efforts into one well organized day of solicitation.

As of Feb 1, this is the only drive for Bach Mai that has the official sanction of the Fund for Peace and cooperating groups. However, checks for Bach Mai, made out to "Bach Mai Hospital Emergency Relief Fund" are being accepted daily by the Fund for Peace Education."

Volunteers for the Drive are urgently needed. Those wishing to help may phone Nina Alexander at 924-1117 or the Fund for Peace Education office, 924-6161.

FINAL LECTURE TUESDAY

For Historical Society. The last of the Historical Society's current series of morning lectures will be held Tuesday at 10:30 in the meeting room of the Methodist Church.

The speaker will be John Poppeliers, Chief of the National Park Service's Historic American Buildings Survey. His topic will be "From Privies to Palaces — a History of Historic Preservation." Many of the photographs used to illustrate his talk were taken as part of HABS' continuing program of recording historic buildings.

Before the lecture, coffee will be served at the society's headquarters, Bainbridge House, which, incidentally, was recorded by HABS in 1936.

FUNDS FOR CHILD DEVELOPMENT INSTITUTE: David Holmes, director of the Princeton Child Development Institute, receives a check from Mrs. Michael Lombardi, representing UNICO, for the purchase of therapeutic equipment. UNICO National's primary concern is the support of mental health programs.

UNIVERSITY HAS PLAN

For Two-Degree Program. Concerned that its popular Master in Public Affairs program is not being taken advantage of "by some of the best prospects in the nation" — its own undergraduates — Princeton University is experimenting quietly with a five-year, two-degree AB-MPA program.

Under the arrangement, highly qualified undergraduate "majors" in Princeton's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs who are interested in graduate work in the field, are being encouraged to continue their studies at Princeton by combining senior year with the first year of advanced study.

Students are required to complete the senior thesis, hopefully by doing the bulk of the work the summer before senior year, and must take the comprehensive examination confronting all other Princeton seniors.

But beyond these lies to the undergraduate curriculum, the student usually substitutes graduate seminars for the normal senior-year courses. Each also has a graduate adviser. During the second year in the program, which becomes the student's fifth at Princeton, he or she is a regular second-year graduate student in the Woodrow Wilson School.

This began as a trial program three years ago and will be evaluated this spring, but we have every reason to hope that it will be continued," observes A Henry Schilling, Director of Graduate Admissions for the Woodrow Wilson School.

Flexibility in the new program eliminates any course-work duplication. It also, obviously, means a year's less study is needed for the School's MPA degree.

"It's still too early to tell whether the program is accomplishing the goals it set out to meet," reflects Schilling, "but except for the fact that late completion of the senior thesis may generate a drain on the time devoted to graduate study in the fall of the senior year it seems to have been working out well."

CONSULTANT TO SPEAK

To Women's Group. Hanni Ellis, pharmaceutical consultant who lives in Princeton, will speak next Thursday at the Professional Roster's program, Lunch-time Conversations with Professional Women.

The talk will be held at 12:30 in Stevenson Hall, 91 Prospect Avenue. Reservations should be made by calling 921-9561 between 10 and 12:30.

Mrs Ellis, whose career is international in scope, will speak on "An Unorthodox Career Capitalizing on Talents."

CONSUMER BUREAU!

Better Business Bureau!

What's The Difference?

So many consumers and business people ask if Consumer Bureau is like the Better Business Bureau that we feel the time hos come to spell out and publish the similorities and differences between these twa public service organizotions:

- BOTH BUREAUS were pioneered and supported by business men, acting alone at first (The Better Business Bureaus by a soft-drink bottler in New York City between 1907 and 1912; Consumer Bureau by a Princeton publisher between 1965 and 1968);

- BOTH BUREAUS are private, non-profit corporations, voluntarily financed by interested business people;

- BOTH BUREAUS regard responsible business people as the consumer's first and best protection (Consumer Bureau stressing in particular the importance of responsible LOCAL business people;

- BOTH BUREAUS welcome consumer complaints, which they are glad to investigate and mediate at no charge to anybody;

- BOTH BUREAUS are able to straighten out most such complaints amicably.

*The Better Business Bureau of Central New Jersey, Inc., is currently the nearest member of the national Association of Better Business Bureaus, Inc., which association stems from and reflects the basic Better Business Bureau concept and program described here.

- ONLY CONSUMER BUREAU maintains a Register of local business people who have been recommended to the Bureau by their own satisfied customers and who have in the Bureau's files a clean record of compliance with the Bureau's published Standards of Responsible Consumer Service (business people pay no fees or dues of any kind for such Registration);

- ONLY CONSUMER BUREAU refers all unsatisfied consumer complaints to a panel of unpaid consumer volunteers who sort out the justified complaints from the unreasonable ones;

- ONLY CONSUMER BUREAU refuses to Register or have as a member any business firm which fails to cooperate with the Bureau's consumer panel in its handling of any consumer complaint referred to the Bureau (Business firms must be Registered in order to qualify for membership, but they need not be Members in order to be Registered);

- ONLY CONSUMER BUREAU refuses as a matter of policy to disclose derogatory file information about any business firm; (Consumer Bureau names local business people with good customer service records, leaving to others the opportunity of identifying those with questionable records);

- ONLY CONSUMER BUREAU maintains a year 'round professional advertising program to guide consumers — especially newcomers — to Consumer Bureau Registered business people.

Consumer Bureau salutes the federated Better Business Bureaus for their long record of service to consumers, business people and law enforcement agencies from Coast to Coast—especially when out-of-town or unlawful business activities are involved. On the local scene today, however, we feel that our Consumer Bureau program of positive consumer information and assistance is of wider practical usefulness to both consumers and local business people, and is more responsive to the needs and attitudes of the times in which we live. Therefore, with all due respect to our colleagues in public service at the Better Business Bureau in Trenton, and to the admirable work they are doing, we sincerely believe that Consumer Bureau is BEST for consumers!

BEST for responsible local business people!

Footnote to War Article.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I read with interest your article in the Feb. 1 issue of Town Topics on anti-war activities in Princeton during the long years of the war. It brought back many memories as I was a participant in many of those activities.

I'd like to add a footnote or two to your story. It should surely be mentioned that the Fund for Peace Education (Princeton's "Peace Center") came into existence in the spring of 1970; it contributed greatly to the peace efforts in this area, serving as a clearing house for other groups, organizing bus trips to peace marches, and serving as an educational force in the community.

The Fund for Peace Education, incidentally, will continue to operate at 163 Nassau St., since there is still much to be done toward building a peaceful world, as well as re-building war torn Vietnam. They hope to involve the community more in its programs as they work to keep the peace, and would welcome new people to come in and help.

Other organizations long active in peace activities in the Princeton area are the Fellowship of Reconciliation, the Quaker meeting, and the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

As we feel a sense of relief that this long war is ending, let us also feel a sense of determination. Determination that we will allow no more Vietnams, and determination that we will now put more energy into eliminating poverty, racism, and injustice in this country.

Housing Dispersal Favored.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Will Dorothy Fabian who replied to my recent letter on the "Yedlin proposal" please reread my letter more carefully? I suggested, if I had alternatives, I might prefer a mobile home in Florida to being surrounded by 40 "units" occupied by others of around my own age.

I was of course speaking only for myself; I grant others might feel differently. I say nothing about "forcibly" mixing the young with the old nor do I say anything about "removing" the old from Princeton!

In respect to "reminiscences," however; I do maintain there is considerable difference between talking about what one did and what one doing.

To repeat: it seems to me healthier that the 100 proposed units be dispersed, not dumped together. The corner of Mt. Lucas and Ewing is not the only area where shops and transportation are available.

Hospital Appreciated.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

This past week, our 11 year-old daughter underwent minor eye surgery as an out patient in Princeton Hospital.

Our family started using the Princeton doctors and the hospital facilities shortly after he was born, when we lived in Lambertville.

I feel it is about time I wrote a letter of thanks to the people

PEOPLE
In The News

Donald T. Evans, a former member of the Princeton High School faculty, has been named chairman of the African American Studies Department at Trenton State College, succeeding Dr. Frank Myers, who resigned recently.

Mr. Evans joined the Trenton State staff in September as director of the Minority Executive Council. He will also retain this post at the college.

Prior to joining the TSC staff, Evans was also executive director of the Princeton Youth Center's Hansberry Arts Workshop. He also has served as consultant in theatre arts for Princeton Regional Schools, director of drama at Cheyney State College, visiting lecturer in Afro-American Studies at Princeton University and as assistant professor of theatre arts at Rutgers University.

The new chairman holds a bachelor of science degree from Cheyney State and a master of science from Temple University. He has received the Princeton Junior Chamber of Commerce "Outstanding Educator of 1970" Award and the Princeton Regional Schools Black Students Union "Service Award."

Margaret Brinster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Brinster, 271 Mercer Road, studied the use of art in advertising at a New Jersey advertising agency as her independent study project at Skidmore College.

"Arts and Crafts the Year Round," books written by Ruth Sharon of 50 Deer Path, are being featured each Sunday morning through March 4 at 9:15 on Channel 4. The program is listed as "T. V. Hebrew School."

William W. Marvel, 341 Dodds Lane, has been named chairman of a new Greater Philadelphia Cultural Alliance, organized to plan for the 1976 bicentennial. Dr. Marvel is president of the Academy of Natural Sciences, which has its headquarters in Philadelphia.

The new Alliance consists of 32 cultural institutions in the city, including such diverse groups as the Academy of Music, the College of Physicians of Philadelphia, the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, the Afro-American Dance Ensemble, the Philadelphia Zoological Society and so on.

Plans call for presentation of a wide range of performances in the arts, exhibits of many kinds, festivals and commemorative events which would celebrate American achievement in art, music, science, dance, invention and the theatre, and highlight the contributions of various racial and ethnic groups to American culture.

Although the Alliance has been formed to commemorate the bicentennial, it will be permanent. Dr. Marvel said Alliance sponsors hope it will become a regional council of arts and science.

Dr. James Starrels, 395 Snowden Lane, has been named to the staff of Princeton House, the psychiatric unit of The Medical Center at Princeton. Dr. Starrels will join the nine attending psychiatrists now serving patients at the 84-bed facility.

A graduate of Harvard University Medical School, he interned at Philadelphia General Hospital, then completed a psychiatric residency at Mount Zion Hospital, San Francisco.

Dr. Starrels maintains private offices in Somerville and is also a member of the attending staff at the Somerset Hospital.

Jerry Lee Shuren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Shuren, 34 Wilder Avenue, has been named to the Dean's List at West Virginia University.

Daryl B. Boone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Boone, of Princeton, has been named to the Dean's List at Rutgers University for the fall semester. A 1971 graduate of Princeton High School, he attained a 1.5 average there as a political science major.

John W. Kauffman, 65 Rollingmead, executive vice president of Princeton Medical Center, was honored in Washington, D.C. this week as New Jersey's first health care administrator to head the American Hospital Association (AHA).

More than 100 New Jersey hospital officials were joined by national and state governmental leaders in a series of receptions marking Mr. Kauffman's investiture as chairman of the AHA board of trustees.

Receptions, sponsored by AHA trustees and the New Jersey Hospital Association, followed Kauffman's inaugural address Monday to the AHA House of Delegates.

Calling on the nation's health care administrators "to serve the interest of the patient and not the interest of our institutions," the newly-installed chairman urged his colleagues "to become increasingly responsive to all of the valid demands placed on hospitals."

Gregory Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Fisher Brooks, Cedar Lane, Titusville, has been chosen by Earlham College students in Richmond, Indiana, to be one of Robin Hood's Merry Men in the May Queen's Court, a prominent feature of the quadrennial Old English May Day festival which will be held on the Earlham campus Saturday, May 19.

John J. Reydel of Lawrenceville has been appointed headmaster of Canterbury School.

Born in 1929, a native of Westfield, New Jersey, graduate of St. George's School and Princeton University in 1951, with a Master's in Education from Harvard in 1958, Mr. Reydel has been on the Lawrenceville faculty since 1956, after teaching at The Hill School for the previous three years. He served with the Marine in Korea from 1951-1953 where he was awarded a Bronze Star, and is a retired Marine Captain.

At Lawrenceville he has been a Housemaster, a coach of Varsity football and baseball, and is at present Chairman of the History Department, and Head of the School Committee on Discipline. Mr. Reydel is a co-founder and former President of the Princeton Montessori School, and has been on the Board of Advisers of the Stuart Country Day School.

of Princeton, to the doctors who staff the hospital, the nurses, the hospital workers and all those who have helped to make Princeton Hospital such an outstanding institution. All three of us have had occasion to use your hospital and never have we received anything but kind and courteous service.

We now live in Pennsylvania. Sometimes we must drive an hour or more to keep our doctor appointments. Nevertheless, as long as we have a car we'll choose Princeton Hospital and its doctors whenever we need medical care.

Memorial for War Dead.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

A number of young men from Princeton lost their lives in the Vietnam war. I would like to see our town honor them in some way. I think a memorial which would benefit young people in the community is preferable to a monument.

For example, one of the needs of Princeton is for a residential facility where young people, who are independent of home, could live under conditions similar to what is provided by the YMCA in many cities.

There are other worthwhile possibilities, of course. I hope my suggestion will encourage others to offer their ideas.

Opera Association Thanked.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On behalf of The Auxiliary, Medical Center at Princeton, I would like to thank every member of the cast of "Carmen", its production and promotional staff, its fine orchestra, and everyone else who worked to make the Princeton Opera Association production of January 23 such a rousing success.

Our thanks go to all those talented amateurs who gave so generously of their time and ability. Not only was the evening an artistically satisfying one, it was an enjoyable and unforgettable introduction to the opera for many younsters.

We appreciate tremendously the effort put into the performance by the Princeton Opera Association for the benefit of the Princeton Medical Center.

PHS Speaking, School Board—You Listening?

"The school board MAKES the school. Each decision of the school board reflects on the quantity and quality of each individual student's learning. Therefore, I ask you as the school board, to do your level best for the students of Princeton High and help to make it a better school."

That's the charge given to the new board by Grace Judson, PHS senior, who won first place in the PHS-Youth Center-Flight Two essay contest, "What the new school board can do to improve PHS."

"The building needs, above all, paint," was Miss Judson's first observation. "The classrooms are mostly painted a dirty cream, institution green, and a reddish - brownish - pink that defies description."

"To be faced, on a rainy Monday, with that sort of paint scheme is to kill the interest of even the eagerest of students!"

She proposes red, orange, unusual and unexpected colors, and advises, "Ask the students — it's their school!"

"I regret to say that some of the teachers leave much to be desired," she continued. "Don't misunderstand me: I think PHS has done very well in respect of the quality of teachers, but there are a few who are really bad."

"They do nothing but stand at the head of the class and talk on and on and on . . . or they hand out to tally non sensical papers to do. Now, I honestly have no objection to work, as long as the work makes sense!"

"Don't forget: the quality of the teacher determines how much and how well the individual student learns."

"There is much tension between the students, mainly between the blacks and the whites. Psychologically, the students are at the age where the normal teenage hostilities are, unfortunately, taken out on the other race. Talking might relieve some of the immediate problems, but will not touch the root of the problem: the serious overcrowding."

Overcrowding is particularly acute in English classes, Miss Judson wrote: "PHS needs more English teachers. It is impossible to give each student the individual care he or she needs, when there are thirty or more to a class."

Yes — Overcrowded. Other contestants — around 11 students entered the contest — mentioned over-crowding. Liz Rothberg wrote, "It's hard to get what you want or need to learn from certain courses when there are so many people in the class that there is little other than chaos going on."

Communication "with thirty or so students, especially when some of the students couldn't care less about the subject the teacher is trying to teach," is practically impossible, Miss Rothberg wrote.

Discipline, Too. Another writer, Mary Ellen Wadman, wrote that "teachers should have more control of the students and not be scared of them. The teachers that are scared of students don't worry at all about those students learning anything or not."

Discipline is "the major problem" according to Miss Wadman, "An open campus is a good idea, if the students know how to use it."

"Students don't know what to do with their free time. There's no place they can go where they can just talk to other students, without causing commotion, or being in the way. The majority of places you can go, such as the resource centers or library, don't interest a lot of the students."

More On Wednesdays. One writer, Scott Corwin, urged use of Wednesday Program afternoons for "workshops, movies, and to catch up on work with teachers that you missed, or don't understand. . . .If more things aren't planned for Wednesday, you might as well move the day to Friday, so we can have a long weekend . . .The initiative and ideas behind the Wednesday Program is great, but incomplete."

The contest's second - place winner, Bryan Midland, commented that employees who work in the cafeteria, taking care of trays and cleaning tables, "could do a great number of other things for our school, if people would just grow up and not treat the place like a junk yard!"

Working Mothers Make Child Care a Booming "Industry" Here

A young mother in the Princeton area may look around at the young faces at the breakfast table, sigh at the mounting bills, and decide she'd better get a job. Part time — maybe full time, to augment the family income.

The question most likely to cause her to wince during a job interview is: "What arrangements have you made for the children?"

In Princeton, it's better than in the rest of Mercer County — there's a chance but parents have to be very nimble. The all-day care centers are walled in by waiting lists.

The nursery schools often fill up the fall roster by late spring. The YW YMCA after-school program, which began last spring, is limited to about 30 youngsters. Community House on Lower Witherspoon Street bulges with kids after school. The Regional School System accepts only certain pre-schoolers in a head start type of class. There are only two or three "family care" homes here certified by the state.

"The waiting lists show that the situation isn't under control," Mrs. Betty Cleaver says. "There's a real discrepancy between need and availability of resources.

Mrs. Cleaver is chairman of the Princeton Day Care Committee, a subsidiary of the Council of Community Services. The Committee took a survey in the United Fund area that revealed that 99 per cent of the women questioned believed in some form of child care facility, 34 per cent believed that care should extend from infancy to age 12, 39 per cent said they would use a "high quality" day care center if it were available "at a cost they could afford" but at the time of the survey 1971, only 5 per cent were using the available day care centers here.

AS REVENUE-SHARING comes to the municipal level, child care centers hope to share in the funds. "The big thrust of the future is the all-day care center for children of working mothers," says a member of the Princeton Day Care Committee. Above is a scene from the N.O.W. — University Day Nursery, where an easel can also be a house.

Mrs. Sally Grossman estimates that three-quarters of the children of the working mothers in the county have no day care facility available to them. In the Princeton area there are four, most with waiting lists.

Social Service. Mrs. Grossman is coordinator of the Mercer County Comprehensive Child Care Conference. She spoke recently to the Women's Political Caucus here. "The need for after-school care for older children is very great," she told them. "The number of working mothers for this age group just quadruples!" The Latch Key child predominates in this group.

The comparative handful of youngsters on the YW YMCA after-school program are in grades 1 through 6. A bus picks them up at school and takes them to the Y where they have various activities until a parent calls for them between 5 and 5:30 p.m. The need for such a program was identified by the Princeton Day Care Committee. Federal money pays three-quarters of the costs and there is a scholarship program.

"Most social services are funded by Federal Government, and they have served notice that they're going out of the business of direct service," Mrs. Grossman reported to the Women's Political Caucus. "This means that there's a great deal more reason for county and local groups to get together, since the revenue sharing funds come to state, county and municipal levels. There's a need to develop a decision-making process plan."

She noted that the all-day care centers as an area temporarily exempted. Under Title IV A of the Social Security Act, matching funds are still available. "At this point there's an opportunity to get day cares funded under this. There is $200 per child start up allowance available."

High Cost of Living a Factor. Pressure on women to work is growing because of inflation, both Mrs. Cleaver and Mrs. Grossman say. The latter adds, "The number of working women is increasing. The baby boom children of the 1960's are coming into the childbearing age. (So we're going to have more pre-school children) and there's a national push to get people off welfare." Mrs. Cleaver notes that the Princeton school population forecasts and the housing situation here don't point to a vast increase in pre-school children in the near future.

"One of the things we are working on is an infant day care center," Mrs. Cleaver comments.

Her committee is divided into six committees investigating such mutual interests of the day care centers and nursery schools as transportation, purchasing ("perhaps food could be bought through the school system"); waiting lists, staffing and combined activities.

The committee's aim is to keep aware of the needs of the day care centers: Princeton Nursery School, Better Beginnings (in Hightstown), the YW-YMCA After School Center; all of which are United Fund agencies, and also the N.O.W. - University Day Nursery, HEW Princeton Day Care Center and the First Baptist Church Day Care Center. "Some have 90 on the waiting list," Mrs. Cleaver muses.

"The real need of the moment is an infant day care center," she says.

In the summer, through the committee's efforts, Princeton Nursery School and the HEW center, both cramped for space, held combined sessions at All Saints' Church where there are spacious grounds and playground facilities.

"Princeton Nursery School has invited the HEW group to join in when their new building is finished. They are deep in architect's plans right now," Mrs. Cleaver reports.

Home Care. On another tack is the "family care" unit, whereby a woman cares for a batch of kids in her home — usually pre-schoolers. Those licensed by the state must meet certain requirements for proper child care. There are also clandestine family care units, such as the one a Princeton woman stumbled upon. She left her child at home in the care of a woman while she went away. On returning, she found a day care center in her house. "One girl even came at 6:30 in the morning with her baby."

"I think there's a need for both family and group day care in our area," Mrs. Cleaver comments. "We are trying to get the governing bodies interested in child care. We think this is going to be a big thrust. The Borough and Township have traditionally given money to day care in small amounts. Their representatives are on the Day Care Committee."

Goals. Asked at the Women's Political Caucus what a good day care program should be, Mrs. Grossman said that parents should be involved in the decision - making at the centers. "There has been a tendency to isolate the child, dealing with him alone. This causes a lot of problems.

"Health services are needed, a good educational program, intake counseling, ongoing services, and there should be an opportunity for a community type of experience. Almost all day care programs feel a real pressure to meet these standards. Cost and inability to find trained personnel are great handicaps. There's a need for parent education ... discussing nutrition, child development. . .

On the county level, Mrs. Grossman says there's a need for a coordinating group in administration, which would work to save money or upgrade services — from transportation to joint purchasing to group planning ... to coordinating funding — to lending equipment to centers just starting. She finds that there are fragmented programs in training paraprofessionals for employment in the day care centers and that there is a need for a degree program in the educational institutions. Mothers, she notes, could be employed as paraprofessionals, with training, in-service training.

For the Princeton area mother with a part-time job, there are nursery schools open two or three hours in the mornings, as well as pre-school programs at the Y. For the woman with a full time job, the day care centers, open from about 7:30 a.m. until 6 p.m., concentrate on pre-schoolers, and there are waiting lists.

"My dream is to have high quality day care available for the children of every parent who wants it," Mrs. Cleaver says thoughtfully. "If they're right about the school population going down, I think there are going to be some school rooms available!"

The Rising Generation

Guide to 18-year-old Adulthood in New Jersey — Part I

The co-sponsors of the Rising Generation series are pleased to reprint the new "Guide to 18-year-old Adulthood in New Jersey." It will appear in four parts detailing rights and responsibilities under the Age of Majority Law.

The brochure was written and prepared by the Department of Community Affairs, Office of Youth Services.

From the preamble by Governor William T. Cahill:

"This new law will free you from the double standards that made you old enough for some adult rights but not old enough for others. It will give you what you long sought and rightly deserved: The full rights and responsibilities of citizenship and the opportunity to participate fully in our society . . .

In recent years, several states have extended the rights and responsibilities of adulthood to 18-year-olds. Some of these states have also lowered their drinking age to 18; others have not. I am glad to say that New Jersey has offered you the full range of adult rights including the right to buy and sell alcoholic beverages. Unfortunately, in some states which have lowered their drinking age, automobile accident rates for young people have increased. Hopefully, the same will not happen in New Jersey. The Age of Majority Law is ample proof that we believe the youth of New Jersey have acted and will act responsibly, and in that we have placed our trust. Please remember that the lives of others may depend on your judgment, judgments which may affect you for the remainder of your life. . . ."

YOU CAN NOW ADOPT A CHILD

If you are 18 or older, you can now adopt a child, providing the child is at least ten years younger than you are.

If the child is related to you, however, the ten-year requirement may be waived if the courts believe it to be in the best interest of the child.

To adopt a child you must meet all the requirements of the adoption agency. If you are in good physical and emotional health, can provide a good home and are financially able to support a child, your marital status will not make a difference.

Chapter 81, P.L. 1972

YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO SELL, BUY AND DRINK ALCOHOL

If you are 18 or older, you can now buy, sell and consume alcoholic beverages in the State of New Jersey. From time to time you will be asked to verify your age in order to buy alcohol. It is recommended that you carry proper identification with you. A driver's license, draft card, birth certificate or voter registration card are the best forms of identification.

Although you now have the right to buy alcohol, you should also be aware of the laws affecting alcoholic consumption. For example, it is illegal to buy liquor for a minor, to drive under the influence of alcohol, or to consume alcohol in public.

You are permitted to seek employment in any establishment which sells alcohol such as a bar, restaurant, or liquor store. Eighteen-year-olds are also permitted to apply for a liquor license in the State of New Jersey provided they are United States citizens, a resident of the State, and of good moral character.

One of the biggest responsibilities you will face when you gain your right to drink will be the obligation to control your drinking while driving. When plotting automobile accidents on a bell curve by age, people between the ages of 18 and 25 rate proportionately higher in traffic accidents and deaths than any other age group. When this higher propensity for accidents is coupled with your new right to drink, the results may very well be critical. Remember, your new right to drink is also a responsibility. The lives of others may depend on your judgement.

The chart on this page, see below, may help you to understand how alcohol affects your body. The guide does not reflect safe drinking levels, only the amount of alcohol permissable by law. This means that while you will probably be within the legal limits or alcohol content of the New Jersey drinking and driving laws, you may very likely have passed the point where you can mentally and physically operate a car safely. In fact, if you are below age 20, the probability of becoming involved in a crash, even when the guide is followed, is 75% greater than the probability for a non-drinking driver of the same age. This greater tendency to have accidents comes from lack of experience in both drinking and driving. Shortening the waiting periods listed in the guide will drastically increase your chances of having an accident. Your chances of being involved in an accident multiply with each additional drink.

The waiting periods mentioned in the guide are important because alcohol is burned up by your body at a constant rate that cannot be changed by drinking coffee, taking showers, exercising, or in any other way. You can become intoxicated by drinking any kind of alcoholic beverage. Studies show, in fact, that the greatest number of people arrested for drunken driving had been drinking beer.

YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO BUY AND SELL PROPERTY

If you are 18 or older, you now have the right to purchase or sell any real or personal property. Real property is land or the building upon the land. Personal property includes items such as your car, stereo, clothes, etc.

You have the right to apply for a mortgage to purchase real property. You may find that obtaining a mortgage may be as difficult as receiving credit.

Chapter 81, P.L. 1972

YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO ENTER INTO A CONTRACT

If you are 18 or older, you have the right to contract, borrow money, and use credit. You will also be held legally responsible for meeting the terms of any contract you sign.

Although you now have the right to borrow money, finance or rent a car, or buy a stereo on the installment plan, you may find it difficult if you have no credit rating.

Credit ratings are usually based on length of employment and residence, income assets, and liabilities. Young people typically rate low in all these areas.

You may find it easier to obtain credit if you:

1. can get a parent, relative or friend to co-sign with you on your first credit or loan application;
2. have a car or other assets to use as collateral in applying for a loan or credit;
3. can open a charge account at a retail store and establish a record of payment;
4. borrow against your savings account.

Chapter 81, P.L. 1972

MALES MUST REGISTER FOR THE DRAFT

Males must register with your local draft board within thirty days of your eighteenth birthday. If you are away from your home on your eighteenth birthday, you may register at the draft board nearest you.

(Military Selective Service Act of 1972)

YOU MAY PARTICIPATE IN LEGALIZED GAMBLING

If you are 18 or older, you have the right to attend and participate in any legalized gambling activities in the State of New Jersey, including horse racing, pari-mutuel betting, raffles, lotteries and other games of chance.

Chapter 81, P.L. 1972

How to use the guide: If you weigh 160 pounds and have three drinks beginning at 8:00 p.m., you should wait at least until 10:30 p.m. before driving. This should keep you within the legal limits for alcohol content of the New Jersey drinking and driving laws. But you may have already exceeded your physical and mental limits for safe driving. No matter how old you are, your chances of having an accident have increased greatly after you have been drinking.

THREE ARE SELECTED

By Women's Club Here The Princeton Business and Professional Women's Club has conducted a drive to find a young career woman to represent it at the BPW State Convention in Atlantic City in May.

Three candidates were selected to compete against nominees from 63 clubs in New Jersey for the distinction of representing the Garden State at the National BPW Convention in Miami, Florida in July.

They are Miss Marylynn Fracaroli, a graduate of Rider College, who teaches Business education at Hillsborough High School; Miss Susan Francisco, a graduate of Virginia Commonwealth University, Richmond Virginia, who is Assistant registrar at Rider College and Mrs. Sandy Spies, a graduate of Newton College of the Sacred Heart, Newton, Mass., a research director at Opinion Research Corporation.

Mary Lynn Fracaroli

The annual Dinner Dance of the Deborah Hospital, Princeton Chapter, will be held on Sunday, March 18 at 5 p.m. at the Old York Inn, Hightstown for members and their guests.

For special table arrangements, please contact Kay Reed 737-2749, evenings.

The proceeds of this yearly affair are used to help support the work of the Deborah Hospital in Browns Mills in the Pine.

Dogwood Garden Club of Princeton: 11 a.m., Thursday at the home of Mrs. G. Arnold Cronk, 31 Evergreen Circle. Mrs. Gerald Lackyer, also of Princeton, will serve as co-hostess for the meeting.

To prepare for its May flower show, the club will present a program by Mrs. Robert R. Green of Trenton on the topic "Grooming Displaying Horticulture for Show." Mrs. Green is State Chairman of the Horticulture School and a national credit judge.

Montgomery Women's Club: third annual winter dinner dance to be held March 17 at Pine Brae Country Club. Mrs. Robert Moore and Mrs. Tietjen are co-chairmen of the event.

Dancing will be from 9 to 1 to the music of Freddie Finch's Band. Mrs. Robert Pinto is in charge of band arrangements. Table decorations are under the chairmanship of Mrs. Joseph Bejma and Mrs. Robert Moore, hors d'oeuvres, Mrs. Gordon McKiernan and communications Mrs. Ted Black.

Advising the committee are Mrs. Edwin Goldberg and Mrs. Richard Jamieson. Reservations are being accepted by Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Tietjen.

The B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation: bagel and lox brunch, 11 a.m., Sunday, at Wilcox Hall on campus. The cost is 50 cents per person. Arthur Waskow, author of "Freedom Seder" and "The Bush is Burning" and a member of the Institute for Foreign Policy Studies will speak on the topic "Radical Judaism, Present and Future."

Dr. Fred Rosner, attending hematologist, Long Island Jewish Medical Center, will speak on the subject "Organ Transplants in Jewish Law", on Wednesday, February 14 at 8 p.m. at Woodrow Wilson School, Box 11.

There is no charge for the lecture which is open to the community.

Woman's Political Caucus of Mercer County will meet this Saturday with Mercer County Freeholders Joseph Tighe and John Watson at 9:15 a.m. at the Woman's Place, 141½ Witherspoon St.

The agenda for the meeting will include a discussion of the participation of women in politics at the County level, consumer problems and day care needs in Mercer County. All members of the community are invited to attend.

Women's College Club: 8 p.m., Monday, at All Saints' Church. Dr. and Mrs. Marvin Goldberger will speak on "A Month in China." The program, accompanied by slides, will be based on their trip this past summer to the People's Republic of China. Dr. Goldberger, chairman of the Federation of American Scientists, an independent organization with more than 4,000 members representing various scientific disciplines, headed a delegation of American scientists at the invitation of the Chinese Academy of Scientists.

Dr. Goldberger is Eugene Higgins Professor of Physics at Princeton University and a member of the Institute for Advanced Study.

Members of the club are invited to bring their husbands to hear and see this first hand account of life inside China.

The Princeton Community Girl Scouts will hold their second ice skating party this Saturday from 5 to 6:30 at the Princeton Day rink. Refreshments will be served; admission is $ 75. The party is sponsored by Junior Troops 628 and 691.

The leaders of Troop 628 are Miss Cathy DeVivo, Mrs. Larraine Wollston and Mrs. Doug Lynn. Patrol leaders are Grace Poole, Karen Gremni and Lisa Cady. The leaders of Troop 691 are Mrs. Eleanor Thomas, Mrs. Carol Wojciechowicz, Mrs. Mary Devino and Mrs. Pat Harlow. Patrol leaders are Donna Devino, Jean Devino and Sophie Volpp.

The Social Committee of Stuart Country Day School will sponsor a parent-student dance Saturday, February 24, from 9:00 to 1:30.

The dance is open to all Stuart parents, students in the Upper School, Faculty, Advisory Board members and Stuart alumnae.

Lisa Fischbeck, Chairman of the Social Committee, has added a bit of nostalgia for the parents by having Lester Lanin and his orchestra provide the music for the dance. However, Mr. Lanin also plays rock music, so all is not lost for the younger generation. Breakfast will be served at the close of the dance.

Among those serving on the committee with Miss Fischbeck are: Laura Mann, Liz Challener and Marina Cords. Mrs. Robert J. Plumb, Jr. is in charge of invitations while Mrs. Helmuth Cords and Mrs. George H. Gallup, III are supervising the decorations.

Welcome Wagon Club of Hopewell Valley: 12:30 p.m., Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. Richard Doyle, Forest Blend Drive, Washington Crossing. Members will bring a favorite dish and take home their other favorite recipes. Each member should bring either a casserole, salad, or dessert — enough to serve four plus a copy of the recipe.

Any newcomer to the Hopewell Township area wishing more information about the club may call Mrs. Nancy Reynolds, hostess, at 737 3148.

NOTICE

Those wishing to have articles published in the "News of Clubs and Organizations" column should submit them no later than noon Monday, the week of publication. Earlier copy will be appreciated.

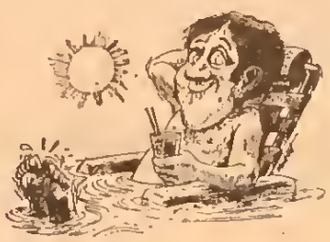
The Adult Education Committee of the Jewish Center is sponsoring Ulpan, modern conversational Hebrew classes for advanced beginners and intermediate students. They will begin Thursday, February 22, at 8 p.m. at the Jewish Center.

The 50-hour courses will meet twice weekly, Monday and Thursday evenings, from 8 to 10 p.m., at the Jewish Center. The fee is $55.

Teachers are Israelis and are approved by the Ulpan Center. The texts used are Elef Meleem I and II.

To register or to obtain additional information, please call Mrs. Ruth Schulman, 924-7235, or the Jewish Center.

Who thinks about buying a pool at this time of year?



Very, very smart people.

Smart, because prices are at their lowest right now. Smart, because if they buy now they're guaranteed of swimming all summer long. Starting Memorial Day!

And smart people are finding out all they can now before they make that final decision. Like finding out about all the exclusive Sylvan features that help reduce maintenance to a bare minimum. And generally discovering that all pools are not alike. Most smart people find that the Sylvan differences can make all the difference in the world.

If you're close to making your decision, do what most smart pool buyers do. Talk to Sylvan. And talk now!

Going Back in Princeton

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

February 5, 1948: Names in the news were those of 10 Princetonians seeking election to the town's two boards of education "Interest will be centered purely around the vacancies" noted TOWN TOPICS "with new budget increases and resultant higher taxes accepted as a matter of course."

The two slates, as defined in that February issue:

"In the Borough, Cyrus C Young Jr., an Audience Research executive, is unopposed for the unexpired term of Wilbur F. Kerr, but five others will vie for three seats Hubert N Alyea associate professor in chemistry at Princeton; Carlos H. Baker, associate professor of English at Princeton; Harry W Hazard now studying for his doctorate at Princeton; Elmer G Homrighausen, professor of Christian Education at the Seminary, the only incumbent seeking reelection and Simeon F Moss, a native of Princeton now enrolled as a graduate student in the University

"In the township George E Duckworth, professor of classics, and Funeral Director Edwin L. Kimble are the incumbents seeking reelection, while Henry W. Kenarney, assistant engineer for the borough, and Joseph J. Stemmle of the Princeton Nurseries are the other candidates."

There was also a look at the future "With the question of consolidation of the two school districts mentioned so frequently in recent weeks, interest in the results here will run particularly high In the word of mouth electioneering taking place, the pros and cons of consolidation are the main issue."

The 1948 Economy Gene Seal. Flowers was offering a Valentine's special an orchid corsage for $1 Skillman & Skillman, Realtors, listed an 88 acre dairy farm near Hopewell, including all stock, equipment outbuildings and an eight room brick house for $42 500 On the other side of the coin a black and white TV set at the Music Shop cost $517

At the movies the Playhouse was billing "The Voice of the Turtle," starring Ronald Reagan and Eleanor Parker while the Garden had booked Ginger Rogers without Fred Astaire in "It Had to Be You." followed by William Powell in "The Senator was Indiscreet." If you went to Frick Auditorium, a Group Arts film revival series would take you all the way back to 1927 "Sunrise," starring Janet Gaynor

In the business world there were among the names which are no longer on the Princeton scene: fried chicken at the Walker-Gordon Gate House; C Page, Fuel Oil, Bert Ann Princeton's only Lingerie Specialty Shop; the Wilcox Pharmacy; O. H. Hubbard, Insurance; Zavelle's. Music-Gifts-Books, on Palmer Square.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

February 6, 1958: Non inflated costs of the late '50s brought a bonanza to Borough taxpayers Borough Council estimated a probable four point decrease in the 1958 tax rate Not only were school and county expenses expected to remain about even, but the increase in Borough revenue exceeded that in appropriations by some $20,000 Even in that decade however a drop in the tax rate was a rarity it would be the first in five years

Princeton High School was combatting racial problem which Superintendent B Wood ... said were of a minor nature "Take 15 students out of the school and it would run itself" he said with some exasperation

Police broke up a budding fight on a street corner near the school and then, acting on an anonymous tip to Principal William H Rhodes, searched students and ... lockers Articles uncovered included an inoperable automatic and several knives. The investigation concluded with the suspension of six boys

If the school was in occasional turmoil, there was none at the board of education level In the Borough, three candidates unopposed for reelection were Irving W Mershon, Graham Rohner and Mrs W ... M Young in the township those unopposed were Mrs Robert Sokler, A Robert Trudel and Mrs. Walton Van Winkle. The consolidation of Princeton schools, mentioned in TOWN TOPICS in February 1948, had obviously not yet come to pass.

Protest over Housing. Borough Council was anticipating a stormy session with a proposal on its agenda calling for construction of a 30-unit low-cost housing project in the Clay Street area Mayor Raymond F Male reported that Council and members of the Zoning and Planning boards had received a total of 122 postcards objecting to the project

Housing was also a major topic in the Township, where the Planning Board was studying Princeton University's proposal to build on the so called Gray Farm land It covered an area bounded by Harrison Street on the west Longview and Riverside drives on the east, Carnegie Lake on the south and the Borough Township line on the north Proposals included making Cedar Lane a public street and opening Prospect Avenue from the Township boundary line east to Riverside Drive

Sign of the Times. Pat Corvino, owner of the Princeton Barber Shop at 11 Chambers Street, was as annoyed over the fact that a theif had twice broken the glass in his door as he was over the theft of some $50 from his cash register. So he put up a sign "Don't Break the Window No Money Here You've Got Enough"

Either the thief couldn't read, or he didn't believe what he saw M Corvino was right there was less than a dollar in small change in the cash register but the thief had to break the glass for a third time to find out

Miscellany from 1958 On ... Road Western Electric moved into headquarters formerly occupied by the Princeton Film Center McCarter Theatre's season was proceeding under direction of Richard Pleasant and Isadora Bennett... Lawrenceville dedicated a new $2 million facility, the Lavino Field House

Three hundred members attended the first service in the new Jewish Center of Nassau Street The Princeton Memorial Association, formed to encourage greater simplicity in funeral arrangements, held its first annual meeting. Princeton Country Day School's hockey team remained unbeaten with a 4-3 triumph over Lawrenceville on two goals by Parky Shearer and one each by John Stevens and Charlie Stuart

FIVE YEARS AGO

February 8, 1968. By the resounding margin of 2 to 1, the budget for the Princeton Regional Schools (finally merged) was defeated in the annual school election It was the first such upset of the proposed financial structure for the school system in three decades, and a second election was scheduled for February 20.

Winers at the polls were William W. Marvel over Charles Jaffin, and John H Marks and William Z Abrams over John C Sapoch and Jay K Luck

Highways in the News. An 18 mile stretch of Interstate 95 between Hopewell and Hillsborough townships was approved by the U.S Bureau of Public Roads, insofar as alignment was concerned Hopewell, Franklin and Piscataway townships all reaffirmed their opposition, and in February 1973, the designated portion remains unbuilt.

A meeting open only to municipal officials was called in Montgomery Township by the State Department of Transportation to discuss alignment of the 92-A By-pass In February 1973, there is no indication as to when it may be built

News Notes. The United Fund topped its goal of $500,275 with a surplus in excess of 2,000 . . . Princeton High School was planning its annual winter ski trip to New Hampshire, with 343 students registered . . . TOWN TOPICS' Question of the Week asked Princetonians whether they believed the State Department when it insistd that the Pueblo was in international waters at the time the North Koreans captured it.

Princeton's basketball team was atop the 1968 Ivy standings, with Pennsylvania in seventh place . . . Princeton High School's basketball team lost its 14th game of the season . . . The Pennsylvania Railroad merged, became the Penn-Central and on the very first day the new name took effect, the "Dinky" rode back and forth to the Junction with placards bearing the new name tied on front and back. It wasn't the railroad's foresight, but progress-minded Princeton undergraduates at work by Mel Atlas, Reg. Pharm.

In 1892 Sir James Crichton-Browne indicated that there might be a relationship between a high rate of dental decay in England and a lack of fluorides in the diet. In 1902 Dr. J. M. Eager, a U.S. Marine Hospital medical officer, first described dental fluorosis. It was not until 1942, however, that fluoride was actually identified as the agent that can help prevent dental decay. Children raised on flouride water showed 65% less tooth decay than children of the same age group prior to fluoridation.

A fine selection of dental products will be found at THE FORER PHARMACY, 160 Witherspoon. Let our expert pharmacists advise you on the proper products best suited for your individual needs—of course, always rely on your dentist's advise first. See our complete selection of vitamins and diabetic needs. Phone 921-7287.

HELPFUL HINT:

A Special Seminar on Alpha Brain Wave Function and E.S.P., . . .

Tuesday, Feb. 13
Wednesday, Feb. 14

In June, a national magazine, Newsweek, featured a special article on "Probing the Brain."

In this article discussion was focused on one of the most fantastic breakthroughs in modern psychology, a new science dealing with the conscious control of brain waves —the electrochemical activity of the brain. This new science is called Alphagenics ,and concerns itself with the Alpha Rhythms of the brain Noted researchers discussed how any individual can learn to function at lower levels, control their brain waves and revealed some of the phenomenal capabilities of man with self-control of his brain waves.

There are four principal brain wave rhythms the Beta-wave, associated with the outer conscious levels, tensions anxiety, physical activity, etc., the Alpha wave, associated with inner levels of mental activity: tranquility, inspiration, creativity, E S P, healing processes, memory learning, daydreaming and other phenomena Theta-waves, which are related to deeper inner meditation mental control of pain, and finally the Delta-waves, which are found in deep sleep or total unconciousness.

Exploration of this almost unknown continent — the human brain — has been pioneered by a sofa-spoken parapsychologist, Joe Silva, of the Institute of Psychorientology of Laredo, Texas This sincere dedicated scientist has been training people to function at different levels of brain waves for many years. Twenty-six years ago Silva and his associates began their research in Mind Control to see if it was possible to increase a person's I.Q factor Amazingly, Silva discovered that not only could I Q be increased but a person trained in this technique could even learn to control certain areas of the Automotic Systems, heart beat, respiration, body temperature, etc. The implications of this breakthrough with regard to health and disease were staggering With Mind Control Techniques it was found that in many cases people could banish pain, accelerate healing, eliminate insomnia, migraine headaches, as well as untold psychosomatic problems.

As research continued, an amazing discovery was made Volunteer students were found to be surprisingly sensitive to the feelings and emotional attitudes of others In other words they became more intuitive In-depth studies revealed that anyone with a normal brain and sufficient training could develop so-called E S P and clairvoyance Alpha Brain Wave Functioning actually enables anyone to become a superior human being.

Classes Now In 100 Cities

Six years ago the directors of the Institute of Psychorientology decided they were ready to release their findings to the general public, and offer the M C Training Program to everyone interested in developing a better mind

Over 75,000 graduates — Coast to Coast

Now there is no longer any doubt as to the great value of this astounding method of self improvement.

Techniques have been improved and refined to the point that only a few hours of classroom instruction were all that was required to train a truly effective person.

Learn Specific Techniques

Once you have mastered Alpha Brain Wave Functioning, you have better control over anxiety and tension You can banish insomnia and eliminate pain — unlearn bad habits such as smoking, overeating, drinking, etc, and create good new ones anytime you desire Your artistic and learning capacity will increase along with your vitality, energy, and self-confidence You'll be happier and more successful in both the personal and business aspects of your life What's more, Alpha Brain Wave techniques will make you able to help your loved ones in dramatic and effective ways regardless of their troubles In short, you'll be a better student, parent, employee, or employer, became a truly effective problem-solver, a more dynamic person—whatever you'd like to be!

Silva Method of Mind Control

Alpha Brain Wave Functioning literally opens the door to the "Promised Land" — the kingdom within Through simple, easily learned techniques you can have your heart's desires, become the person you want to be

Results Guaranteed

It sounds almost too good to be true yet the facts are that with Silva Mind Control "Almost Nothing Is Too Good To Be True." Learn how to use the key that unlocks the door to your innerconscious mind and release the abundant wealth, power and possibilities within.

"1776"

All fifth and sixth graders in Princeton's public schools saw the film "1776" at the Princeton Playhouse Tuesday as guests of the PTA-PTO Council.

The special showing of the musical about the birth of the United States was made possible through the Council's "Enrichment Fund." The cost was about $600, according to Mrs. William Angoff, Council president.

School buses took the children to the theatre for the 10 a.m. screening and returned them to the schools at 12:30.

BILL INTRODUCED

To Preserve Canal. Senator Raymond H. Bateman of Somerset County and Senator William E. Schluter of Mercer last week jointly sponsored a resolution creating a bipartisan committee to preserve the Delaware and Raritan Canal "for the enjoyment and benefit of the citizens of the State now and in the future."

The resolution specifies that the committee will submit its recommendations and legislative proposals before December 1.

This action was highly praised by Lee Bullitt and Margen Penick, co-chairmen of the newly-formed Delaware and Raritan Canal Coalition. The coalition represents some 53 groups in nine townships and three boroughs interested in the future of the Canal and its environs.

The Bateman-Schluter committee of senators and assemblymen will investigate all practical means of protecting the natural beauties of the Canal area "from destruction by expediency and fragmented effort." The committee will consider ways in which the state, county, and local governments as well as private groups can assist in preserving the Canal for all time.

Historic Site. The Canal, which has recently been designated an historic site, runs between Trenton and New Brunswick. "This is the most populated corridor in our state," Mrs. Penick, one of co-chairmen of the Coalition pointed out. "The Canal is its primary recreational resource."

The Bateman-Schluter resolution also includes the feeder canal, which runs from north of Lambertville to Trenton. The area along the feeder is likewise seen by the Coalition as having great recreational potential.

"We have been extremely impressed by the number of groups that have joined us," Mrs. Bullitt, the other co-chairman added. "Our supporters include historic societies, conservation clubs, and recreation groups from all over the state."

The executive committee of the Canal Coalition is composed of representatives from seven townships along the Canal. Members are Anita Benarde of Princeton, John Fiemer of Plainsboro, Robert Immordino of Lawrence, James Moise of Franklin, Marion Palmer of Montgomery, and Donald Shober of Hillsboro.

The Coalition, with headquarters on Canal Road, R.D. No. 1, Princeton, is working closely with the Department of Parks and the Department of Water Supply to coordinate the efforts of the state and local groups of citizens concerned with the future of the Canal.

wide range of courses. Mail or in person registrations are also accepted daily at the Adult School Office at 425 South Main Street, Pennington. Those wishing further information may contact the Adult School at 737-1511.

FIRST AID COURSES SET

By Red Cross. The Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross announces two Red Cross Standard First Aid Courses, and for those who satisfactorily complete the standard course, Red Cross advanced first aid courses will follow.

The standard courses require three weeks and the advanced courses four weeks.

The courses will be held at Room 220 East Pyne on the Princeton Campus from seven to nine. Robert Baker, a certified Red Cross First Aid Instructor, will conduct the Standard class Mondays, beginning February 12, and the Tuesday class, beginning February 13 will be taught by Brian Kavanagh, also a Red Cross First Aid Instructor.

Registration may be made by calling Red Cross Chapter Headquarters 924-2404. There will be no combinations. Students must attend the classes for which they are registered.

WHEELCHAIR DONATED

By Soroptimist Club. Responding to an appeal by the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross for more modern equipment, the Princeton Soroptimist Club has donated a modern lightweight, folding wheelchair to the Red Cross Sickroom Service.

To provide the best possible service to everyone, the Princeton Red Cross Chapter has a standing appeal for donations of modern orthopedic and sickroom equipment. Crutches, walkers and wheelchairs are needed for those who have been in accidents. Any person or organization wishing to donate to this community effort should call the Red Cross at 924-2404.

ART WORKSHOP PLANNED

By Library for Children. In response to popular demand, the Public Library will sponsor an art workshop geared specifically to younger children — those in Kindergarten through grade 2. The workshop, led by Edith Kogan, local artist, will be held Wednesday, February 21 at 3 p.m. Parents who would like their children to participate should register them at the children's desk. Attendance is limited to 20 children on a first come, first served basis.

ENTRIES ARE SOUGHT

For W. Windsor Hobby Show

The West Windsor Recreation Committee is seeking entrants in the 1973 Hobby and Craft Show scheduled for Sunday March 4 from 3 to 6. There is no entry fee.

This is an opportunity not only to exhibit hobbies and crafts for community viewing, but to meet other hobbyists with similar interests. Among the exhibits shown in previous years were collections of antique dolls, bells, horses, bottles, rocks, indoor plants, musical scores and many more.

There were also displays of model planes and ships, newspapers with historical headlines, a model railway display, a working antique radio station and hand-craft demonstrations.

The Committee hopes to expand the Show this year in all areas including needlework and hand craft exhibitions such as knitting, crocheting, weaving, embroidery work, whittling, wood turning, and picture frame making.

The show will be held at the Maurice Hawk School on Clarksville Road in Princeton Junction. In addition to the exhibits, movies will be shown on subjects related to hobbies and crafts.

Entry blanks can be obtained at the Township Hall and the Public Library, both of which are located on Village Road. Further information can be obtained from the following committee members: Ruth Finkelstein 799-0759, Fran Guzy 799-1642 and Jackie McLaughlin 799-0570. The deadline for all entries is February 23.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you

By John Bernard

When sports are classified according to skill, hockey is rated by most experts as the most skilled of all. Its requirements of speed, strength, coordination and will take a cruel measure of even the best-toned physique — and all these qualities must be found in a man who is also a championship skater! It is the purpose of the United States Hockey Hall of Fame (which has been endorsed by the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States) to aid in the development of this great and demanding game by creating a center of study to encourage the training of hockey players and coaches.

Last week the U. S. Hockey Hall of Fame announced the first fifteen players to be inducted. They are "Tally" Abel, "Hobey" Baker, Frank C. Brimsek, John P. Chase, "Cully" Dalhstrom, John Garrison, "Moose" Goheen, Mike Karakas, Myles Lane, Sam LoPresti, John Mariucci, George Owen, "Ding" Palmer, "Doc" Romnes and "Coddy" Winters. Next week I'll tell you their college and/or professional affiliation.

I'll bet you didn't know that Sturhahm, Dickenson & Bernard writes hockey insurance for hockey players all over the United States as insurance managers for the Amateur Hockey Association of the U. S.

Tigers Win Two, Look for Two More in Ivy Race

Locked in the anticipated first-place tie with Penn following its upset of the Quakers last week, Princeton's basketball team will entertain two more of the weaker Ivy quintets in Jadwin Gym this weekend.

Cornell comes here Friday and Columbia Saturday. The Tigers then go on the road the following week to play these same two opponents. A trip to Providence and New Haven will precede the arrival of Harvard and Dartmouth here the first weekend in March.

Despite Princeton's heady triumph over Penn at the Palestra, it is by no means a foregone conclusion that the Orange and Black will achieve a playoff with the Quakers, who are a whole lot more likely than the Tigers to go undefeated for the balance of the schedule. This is a wholly unpredictable team, capable of sloughing off into truly sloppy play, and such a tendency in the weeks ahead will almost certainly spell "upset" anywhere along the line.

With the exception of Harvard, none of the other Ivies is even now within hailing distance of Penn and Princeton. The Crimson, a 71-70 victim of the Tigers at Cambridge in January, could cause trouble here, but so could Columbia at New York or Brown at Providence, playing in familiar surroundings without pressure.

Cornell Has Problems. For many years, Cornell was a major factor in virtually every Ivy race, and the two-game trip that Princeton took to face the Ithacans and Columbia did much to determine how well the Tigers would do in their bid for a title. No more.

In the past five seasons, the Red has not finished better than fourth, and last winter, it was dead last with a 1-13 mark. In addition to a lack of capable players (there has not been one all-Ivy choice from Cornell since 1967), strife has been an unwelcome factor at Ithaca. During each of the past two seasons, players have quit or been dropped from the squad, and at one point in January, an AP report said that there were only seven players suiting up.

Actually, nine were available for the Harvard and Dartmouth games last week. The Red even put five of them in double figures in a 78-72 loss to Harvard, but next night fell short of the mark again when it lost to Dartmouth at Ithaca in overtime. The Green isn't much better — that victory was its first in its last 14 games.

Columbia, too, has fallen on evil times since Jim MacMillian, now a fixture in the NBA, and Heyward Dotson graduated three years ago. The Lions were 4-20 and seventh in the league last winter, but are somewhat improved this year: 5-12 overall and victor over Cornell twice and Dartmouth in their first half dozen Ivy games.

Senior Bob Evans, a 6-3 forward, is Columbia's main threat with a 19-point average. Loss of Ron Boyd (15.4) for academic ineligibility hurt, and Darryl Downing, a 6-2 guard averaging 10 points a game is the only other player in double figures. Jack Rohan's able coaching is a plus, but this is another mediocre year for the New Yorkers.

One Great Half, One Mediocre. When a basketball team leads by 20 points at the intermission and wins by just 12, it has obviously done little more than play out the clock. Shooting a fine 57 percent (paced by junior Joe Vavricka's 7 for 9) in the first period, the Tigers led Yale Saturday at the intermission, 49-29.

Six minutes into the final half, they had boosted this to 65-38, for a 27-point margin. Then they let up markedly, at one juncture allowing the Blue 10 straight points, and with just over four minutes to go their 27-point lead had been shaved to 11 — 75-64. It was an 85-73 final, and the regulars went all but the last 90 seconds.

Vavricka, used in spots this winter but rarely a starter, moved into the lineup when senior Bill Kapler dressed but reported a touch of the flu. In the first 20 minutes, Vavricka's soft-touch jumper gave him a career high of 18 points and he finished the night with 25.

Ted Manakas was no better

Sunday Game a First

When the Brown basketball game was, in effect, rained out Friday because the Bruins were unable to fly out of Logan Airport in Boston in time to play here, the Sunday rescheduling made athletic history at Princeton.

Individual athletes have competed for Princeton University here on Sunday in such sports as golf, tennis and squash but no team sport has been played here on the Sabbath in the past. Elsewhere, the Princeton baseball team played a Sunday game at New Haven several years ago and the crew has rowed in the Carnegie Cup at Ithaca when weather conditions made the Saturday race impossible.

The postponement because of weather conditions of an Ivy basketball game in which Princeton was involved is not, however, a first. About a dozen years ago, Penn could not make it to Dillon Gym because of dense fog, and the scheduled Saturday game was played on Monday.

than 8 for 18, but in addition to his 18 points, he was the center of some spectacular assists that set up a number of picturesque fast-break baskets. Andy Rimol (13) and John Berger (10) gave Princeton an unusual four in double figures as the Tigers' 85 points marked their high for the current campaign.

The victors managed 52 percent for the game but were no better than 68 percent on sloppy shooting at the foul line. Yale's respective figures were an ordinary 42 percent from the floor and a gaudy 90 percent in free throws. Princeton led in rebounds, 34-30, and Yale in turnovers, 14-12.

Brown Fades Badly. After making a good impression with its young run-and-shoot team in the first half, Brown hit a prolonged cold spell as soon as action resumed and dropped completely out of contention. Trailing by no more than 36-29 at the intermission, the Bruins managed just two points in the first ten minutes of the final period while the Tigers were throwing in 18. By that time, it was 34-31 and no contest.

In sharp contrast to the slow down against Yale, Princeton remained sharp against Brown and its biggest margin (24 points) came at the very end. The 76-52 triumph raised the team's overall record to 10-7.

For the second night in a row, Joe Vavricka played well, hitting on 7 for 10. All but two of his 14 points were recorded in the first half, when they were needed most.

Big Andy Rimol took game-high honors with 20, and Manakas added 14. He is virtually certain to top the 1,000-point mark in his Princeton career this weekend, needing just 23 more to go into four figures.

Statistically, Princeton was 56 percent from the floor and a vastly improved 86 percent from the foul line. The Tigers led in rebounds, 32-30, and trailed in turnovers, 15 to 22. Brown was no better than 39 percent from the floor and a wretched 43 percent from the foul line, which is very probably the lowest mark in Jadwin Gym history.

SKATERS WIN TWO

But Are Still In Cellar. Adding a 4-2 triumph over Yale in Baker Rink Saturday to its 5-4 overtime defeat of Penn five days earlier, Princeton's hockey team completed its best week in three years. Not since 1970 has the Orange and Black won more than a single game in Ivy action.

The league is enjoying its best race in years, with only four points separating the Tigers and Brown in last place from pace-setting Cornell and Harvard. The standings were drawn closer Saturday by three simultaneous upsets — Dartmouth over Cornell, 3-2, Penn over Brown, 5-3, and Princeton over Yale. On a basis of games lost, however, only Cornell, the defending champion for a fifth straight year, and Harvard have a shot at the title. The Crimson has already lost to the Ithacans at Cambridge and plays at Cornell on February 17.

Stuckey Out for the Season. The good news was tempered by the bad. Sophomore Mark Stuckey, the team's top playmaker, fractured his clavicle in the Yale game and will not play again this winter. He had missed three games in January with an eye injury.

Early in the second period Saturday, Stuckey and Walt Snickenberger collided in center ice when both were turning toward the Yale goal and neighter saw the other coming. Stuckey, 30 pounds lighter than the Tiger co-captain, took the contact on his shoulder point and examination in the dressing room revealed the break even before x-rays were taken. Despite his short age of game action, the speedy sophomore had been the leading offensive player on the team and was often assigned to work a key point position on power plays.

Yale Lead Overcome. After a scoreless first period, Yale recorded the first goal Saturday six seconds into round two when the Tiger defense permitted wing Phil Clark of the Elis to skate in on goalie Phil Robinson alone from the opening face-off. As has been the case often this season, the Tiger net-minder was the victim of poor protection.

Ten minutes later, unusually constant Princeton pressure paid off, Snickenberger deflecting a hard 30-foot shot by defenseman Al Steuver to bring the home team even. The period ended 1 all.

The most eye-filling Princeton outburst in years followed quickly when action resumed. Fed nicely by Steve Weiner and Ethan Warren, Snickenberger skated in on the Yale cage, beating the goalie with a ten-foot flick to the right as he skated left.

A hard, angled shot from 40 feet out off the stick of defenseman Jim Dumberger then gave the Tigers a 3-1 lead, and their obvious enthusiasm over the turn of events quickly produced another score. This one climaxed a scrimmage in front of the Yale cage that seemingly saw all 11 players within three or four feet of the mouth. Brad Richards jammed it through, Corky Powers and Steuver getting assists.

The three goals were recorded within a space of 61 seconds, allowing the Tigers the highly unusual experience of coasting to a victory. Yale recorded a meaningless goal when Princeton was a man short at 15:36, but Robinson, blocking 25 of the 27 shots taken at him, gave another fine performance.

Two more league games within five days are on the schedule. Princeton will be at Cornell Friday and entertains Brown next Wednesday night. On the way home from Ithaca, the Tigers will play Colgate at Hamilton, N. Y., to complete a tough road trip.

PDS NEEDS BIG WIN

After Lawrenceville Loss. Measured strictly in terms of its won and lost record, the Princeton Day basketball team already is assured of a successful season this year, but the team and coach Alan Taback are not totally satisfied.

Still lacking is a victory over one of the other really strong schools in the area. The Blue and White lost to Hun by two points, dropped a 10-point decision to Peddie, got thumped by Morristown-Beard, and last Friday fell before Lawrenceville, 58-31. Earlier in the week PDS scored a 65-49 win over Pennington.

Yet to be played are Rutgers Prep, Newark Academy and Hamilton High (two Monday), a victory over any one of them would be a big plus for the Panthers. The post season tournament will also provide an opportunity to knock off a top-rated opponent.

Of a more immediate nature are two games this week against lesser teams, MacArthur Military this Wednesday at home and Doane Academy Friday at 3:30 at home. These two contests should up PDS's season record to 13-4 but the Panthers would like to add a really strong opponent to that victory column.

The Panthers got off to their usual slow start against Pennington, but with three minutes to go in the opening period they started a run of 14 straight points, with Ron Webster contributing 8 of them. It turned a 13-10 deficit into a 21-13 lead. Webster and Captain Mark Ellsworth tied for scoring honors in the contest with 22 points each.

Coach Alan Taback called freshman Bill Martin's defensive job on Pennington's top scorer, Jerry Eure, "outstand

Four Ivy Players Drafted

Four Ivy League seniors, Princeton's Carl Barisich among them, were selected last week in the annual college draft held by the National Football League. Based on statistical records, each has about one chance in three of surviving the final cut next summer.

Barisich was an 11th round choice of the Cleveland Browns. A fine defensive tackle who stands 6-5 and weighs 245, he will go to the pros with only two years of college football behind him. A knee injury benched him for his entire junior year but he returned to win All-Ivy and All-East honors last fall.

Two Yale players, running back Dick Jauron and defensive guard Bob Leyen, were selected, Leyen in the sixth round by the Dallas Cowboys and Jauron in the seventh by the Detroit Lions. Eric Crone, Harvard quarterback, was a 17th—and last—round pick of the St. Louis Cards.

PHS Five Seeks to Protect 7-0 Home Record

The Princeton High School basketball team can boast that it hasn't lost a game at home this season, where it is 7-0. If it can still say that after Thursday, then it will really have something to boast about.

Thursday afternoon at 3:30, Camden High School will invade the PHS gym — the same Camden team which a week ago scored 58 points in the second half against the visiting Little Tigers to win by 30 points, 84-54.

"If we can stay out of foul trouble, we won't get blown out again. I think we'll have a chance of winning it," commented PHS coach Narv Trotman. "Plus, we'll be playing at home and that's always a big help."

Following Camden, the Little Tigers will play host to Steinert Tuesday at 3:45. Steinert, one of the pre-season picks to capture Mercer County honors, has had a disappointing season but the Spartans received a big boost last week with an upset win over Trenton.

Still Steinert has to be far removed from the attention of the PHS quintet. It's Camden the Blue and White is pointing to, and the chance to recapture some of its lost lustre. The Little Tigers (13-5) are still ranked third in the Delaware Valley area behind Northern Burlington and Pennsbury, both outside Mercer County.

What happened at Camden where PHS was behind by three points at the half? Two things combined to turn the game into a rout. First, PHS lost center Leon Robinson early in the third period on fouls. Bobby King and Larry Miller followed him.

"We couldn't win with those guys sitting on the bench. We can't win any game with that many starters out," emphasized Trotman. It's no secret that PHS is a five - man team and the loss of even one starter is noticeable.

The second nail in Princeton's coffin was the appearance in the second half of Daryl Lee, a 6-5, 240-pound defensive end on the Camden football team who had been benched by Camden coach Clarence Turney. Lee simply destroyed PHS under the boards.

"He was an animal under there," observed Trotman. He may not have been the most polished player but he sure got the job done." In addition to his rebounding, Lee added 17 points.

Bailey vs. Smalls. Also included in Thursday's contest will be a replay of the match-up of two outstanding high school players, Tony Bailey for PHS and Wayne Smalls for Camden. Bailey was in tremendous form. He outscored Smalls, 30-20, and accounted for 20 of Princeton's 30 points in the second half. Bailey, who has scored 123 points in Princeton's last five games, at one point hit for 11 straight against Camden.

Smalls entered the game with a 23 point average. "Tony was by far the classiest player on the floor," said Trotman.

Both teams started slowly. "We played well in the first half but we didn't hit on any baskets at all. They were cold and we didn't take advantage of it. We could have been up by 10 points," said Trotman. PHS shot 29 percent. Camden 21 percent.

In the second half, there was no stopping the Purple Avalanche (13-1) after coach Turner made his adjustments. Trotman cited the play of Gil Spencer who was second in scoring behind Bailey with 12, and who held the taller player he was guarding to zero in the first half. No other Little Tiger scored more than six points. "We're not a team that can win with just two players doing the scoring," said Trotman.

Trotman maintained that despite the outcome, the game proved that PHS could stay with Camden. "Our kids weren't awed by them." He's hoping that PHS will be even more irreverent on its home court.

ing." When Martin got a breather at the end of three periods, he had held Eure to a scant 4 points.

The third quarter blues ruined PDS' chances against Lawrenceville. Behind only 32-29 at the half, the Panthers watched the margin spread to 10 points. Martin, who injured an eye late in the second stanza, played only sporadically in the last half.

The PDS offense also floundered in the third quarter when Lawrenceville tried a box and one defense to contain Ellsworth. "W still tried to work the ball over to him a lot, instead of trying to exploit the other weaker points of the defense," Taback commented.

Behind by only five early in the fourth period, the Panthers missed three straight lay-ups on the same play, but lost control of the backboard, and the Larries ran the margin to 10 again in short order.

"Our lack of experience caught up with us when we got behind," said Taback. "We stole the ball a lot, but we just couldn't convert the points."

OPENING IS NEAR

For Indoor Tennis Center. After many building delays, the Washington Road Tennis Center in Princeton Junction has scheduled an Open House for Sunday, February 18.

If the facility resembling a big red barn with six Elastaturf indoor courts is not completely finished by then, the open house will be held the following Sunday. Hours are 10 to 6.

John Conroy, professional manager of the new center, hae signed Dana Carroll and Jess Epstein as co-chairmen of the management committee and Doris Mapes to direct those manning the desk.

Instructors under Conroy's supervision include Marie Schacht, Karen Bull, Cephas Monnett, Bill Humes and Bayard Jordan, as well as players from Princeton University.

When the Center opens courts will be available every day from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. Meantime, group classes are being formed and reservations accepted. Those wish ng to reserve specific time at the Center or seeking more information about open time on a chance basis should call 924-0015.

WORKSHOPS PLANNED

For Tennis Teachers. The Princeton Community Tennis Program will conduct its annual teacher training workshops on three Wednesday evenings starting February 28. They are designed to prepare instructors for spring and summer tennis classes.

Co-sponsored this year by the New Jersey Lawn Tennis Association, the teaching sessions will be held in Jadwin Gym on the main level tennis courts. The workshops are scheduled for February 28, March 7, and 14, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

All university and high school students who wish to take jobs in the tennis program, or persons planning a club or camp job, are includ-

ELLIS IS NAMED

As Olympic Alternate. Larry Ellis, in his third season as coach of track and field at Princeton University, has been named an alternate on the U.S. Olympic Committee's Men's Track and Field Committee.

Ollan C. Cassell, Track and Field Administrator, named Ellis and 13 others to serve for the period 1973 to 1976. The alternates will be moved up to replace any of the 23 delegates, named at the AAU convention in Kansas City, who are unable to serve.

Ellis, a standout middle distance runner at both DeWitt Clinton High School and New York University, served two years in the army, taught five years in Manhattan Junior High School 139, received his Master's degree in secondary education from N.Y.U. in 1957 and then began a twelve year coaching career at Jamaica High School in 1958.

During his tenure at Jamaica, Ellis built his teams to a position of prominence in Metropolitan scholastic competition. His cross country teams won 26 of 32 meets while his track and field teams posted 62 victories against but 8 defeats. For seven years, Ellis served as Dean of Boys at Jamaica High School.

Since coming to Princeton, Ellis has guided his cross country teams to 21 victories in 29 outings and has seen them capture the Big Three championship against Harvard and Yale the past two years. His indoor track teams, prior to this season, showed 18 victories and 8 defeats while his outdoor squads have taken six of eleven meets.

SPORTS CAMP PLANNED

At PDS This Summer. Twenty of the east's top college and professional coaches and players each will have a "day" at the Princeton Day Sports Camp this summer.

The five week sports camp, featuring a week each of lacrosse, soccer and baseball and two weeks of basketball opens June 25 at the school.

The camp features two clinics daily with guest coaches. There will be drills and daily team competitions supervised by the visiting coach and the permanent staff of varsity high school coaches.

Open to boys and girls 10-18, the camp will be divided into Junior (10-13) and Senior (14 - 18) sections. There will be separate boys' and girls' teams.

Individual Instruction. The philosophy of the camp, stated by co-directors Alan Taback and John Boneparth, is "to offer each boy and girl individual instruction from the finest coaches available, to enable campers to develop and improve individual skills and to offer daily opportunities for ...motive team play." Taback, Princeton Day School Director of Athletics, and Boneparth, who coaches ... and basketball at PDS, have contracted an all-star list of guest coaches.

Lacrosse coaches are Bob Scott, who has coached five national champions at Johns Hopkins, Dick Szlasa, 1967 ... of the Year and head coach at Navy, Bud Beardmore, three-time All American now head coach at Maryland, and Princeton University coach Art Robinson.

Baseball coaches are Robin Roberts, former Phillies ace, five times a 20-game winner, John Orsino, ex-major leaguer now head coach at Fairleigh Dickinson, former Brown University star Sonny Pittaro, now coach at Rider College, and Norm Gagon, another former majors player, coach of two-time MAC West champs Lafayette.

Soccer. The camp boasts an impressive quartet of soccer coaches, with a long list of NCAA, MAC and Ivy championships. They are Lincoln Phillips, who coached Howard University to the NCAA title, Bob Seddon, coach of Ivy League champion Penn, Walt Chyzowych, whose Philadelphia Textile teams have won two MAC crowns and have made the NCAA playoffs twice, and Hans Vogelsinger, former Austrian soccer star now head coach at Yale.

The basketball coaches' list ... headed by Lou Carnesecca, general manager and head coach of the New York Nets. Nets' star Brian Taylor will have "his day," too. Others include Dick Lloyd, head coach at Rutgers, Hal Wissell, formerly at Trenton State, now at Fordham, where he earned Coach of the Year honors, and Chuck Daly, whose first Penn team went 25-3 for its third straight Ivy title.

which will occupy the last two weeks of camp, will be Frank Mulzoff, who succeeded Carnesecca at St. John's University. Jack McKinney, whose St. Joseph's team lost to champion Maryland in the NIT last year, and Herb Magee, whose story-book record at Philadelphia Textile includes three MAC crowns, five straight NCAA bids and one NCAA college division championship.

Schedule is as follows: lacrosse, June 25-29; baseball, July 2-6; soccer, July 9-13, basketball (first week), July 16-20, (second week), July 23-27. There will be no girls' baseball camp.

The camp's daily schedule begins with warm-ups, then a clinic by the visiting coach, followed by drills and a swim. After lunch there will be a second clinic, more drills, team games, and a swim.

Campers may enroll for one week or any combination of the five weeks. Weekly tuition is $85, and packages are available for four and five weeks. Tuition includes a camp shirt, lunch, insurance and a "game ball" for each boy and girl.

There will be one permanent staff coach for every ten campers, with specialists in girls' lacrosse and basketball on the staff.

PEDDIE TO TEST HUN On Court Here Friday

A Hun School basketball team which owns an impressive 14-2 record has five games left in regular season play and only one opponent has a better than even chance of defeating the Red and Black.

BYSTRZYCKI FOR TWO: Brent Bystrzycki goes up for a top-in for Hun during first-quarter action in Friday's 65-62 win over visitng Germantown Friends. Defending for the Tigers are 6-9 John Sawyer (13) and Bill Whitmon (10). Win was Hun's fifth in a row.

That is Peddie, which will invade the Hun gymnasium Friday for a 3:15 contest. Hun will remain host for a game here Tuesday against Solebury, starting at 4.

Led by its 6-8 center, Ed Schetlick, Peddie has lost only once this year to Malvern Prep in the Hill School Tournament. It has posted wins over every Mercer County team it has played, including Princeton High School—the current county high school leader.

"We're going to have to play our best game of the year to beat them," agreed Hun coach Dave Leete. "They're big overall and a mature team with Schetlick and a couple of post grad players.

"It's going to be tough. We'll have to come up with something special for them."

Hun over Germantown. Hun displayed once again that it has the attributes of a championship team when it came from behind Friday to defeat visiting Germantown Friends, the defending Penn-Jersey League champions, 65-62.

After Hun had taken a 33-24 halftime lead, the Tigers came back in the third period to lead by as many as six points. But the two players who have been doing it all year for Hun, Biff Hollowell and Tony Trani, sparked Hun to a 19-14 final period and the win.

"They played some good basketball but we were able to come back," said Leete, citing Hollowell and Trani as the chief engineers. Hollowell led all scorers with 25, Trani added 13. They combined for 17 of Hun's points in the first half.

Dave Clark had seven points and Jim Lynch, Kevin Tylus and Brent Bystrzycki six each for Hun. Germantown's 6-9 center, John Sawyer, was held to six points. The loss was the visitors' fifth in 14 games.

Earlier in the week, Hun defeated highly regarded Rutgers Prep 16-3) in typical fourth-quarter Hun heroics, 73-69. Bystrzycki's two foul shots iced the win.

Leete described it as "probably one of our best performances of the year." Hun shot 61 percent from the floor and played great defense.

Four players accounted for all but 10 of Hun's points: Hollowell had 25, Tylus 15, Brian Logue and Traini, 12 each. Paul Smith led the losers with 23. He has scored more than 2300 points during his career at Rutgers Prep.

PHS HOLDS ON TO WIN

Over Cedar Ridge, 86-85. Momentum in sports is highly unpredictable; it can lie dormant for long periods and then flare up out of control to the point where nothing can stop it.

PHS was almost engulfed Tuesday night by Cedar Ridge High School which scored an almost incredible 42 points in the final eight minutes to play. The avalanche stopped just one point short of burying the visiting Little Tigers who managed to hold on to win its fourteenth game, 86-85.

PHS, which had defeated Cedar Ridge earlier in the season on its home court, enjoyed a comfortable 68-43 bulge when coach Marv Trutman decided to give his reserves a chance to play. Instead, the Cougars, led by Marvin Wood, who scored 16 of his game-high 35 points in the final period, turned killer.

Gil Spencer scored 23 points — his best of the season — to lead PHS, while Tony Bailey added 22 more to continue his scoring surge. Bobby King had 15 points and Larry Miller 12. PHS s 14-5, Cedar Ridge, 7-11.

PERKS WINS THIRD

In Playoff Bid. Perks Construction Company won its third straight game last week in the Adult Basketball League by routing the No Names, 93-30. The acquisition of Tom Michaud and Bob Muccarioli has molded the Perks offense into an explosive machine.

Conte's Bar extended its unbeaten streak to six games by defeating Ivy Inn 63-49. Ivy defensed the barmen with a tight 2-1-2 zone to try to counter Conte's impressive board strength, but unfortunately, Conte's continuously scored on outside shots, shooting over 60 percent from the floor.

In other adult league action, Post Office routed the Students with an impressive 106-51 win. John Madden continued his torrid scoring pace by tallying 38 points for the mailmen.

Princeton Basketball Association handed Kingston Wine & Liquor its third straight loss, captioning a 69-66 decision. Ted Fritsch led PBS's scoring with 21 points while Tim Kearns scored 20 for Kingston.

COLLISION IS CLOSER

For Cannon, Terrace Club. Both Cannon and Terrace Club continued on their collision course by posting victories last week in the Dillon Basketball league.

Cannon Club (7-0) put most of the nails in the lid of the Black conference championship by defeating second place Cap and Gown, 37-17. Terrace (6-1) defeated its second place conference threat Tower Club, 29-20.

Cannon's victory was impressive because, as in previous weeks, unheralded scorers managed to pick up the slack for the Green. This week it was Jerry Moyer's turn as he contributed 10 points. Robert Rumer also scored 6 points for Cannon. Rounie Ward led the balanced scoring attack with 13.

Terrace Club also received scoring balance in its victory. Barry Turner was high with 13 points, while Keith Phox scored virtually every point for Tower Club. Terrace and Cannon will meet February 24 in the last regular season game for what could well be a preview of the championship finals.

In other Junior Division action, Quadrangle Club defeated winless Palmer Hall, 32-26, behind a 20-point performance by Don Johnson. Blair Hall moved up to challenge Cap and Gown for second place in the Black Conference by defeating Cottage Club, 38-37. The game was a must for both clubs. Dean Boyer and Chris Wils scored 14 and 12 points respectively for Blair, while Robert Mangone tallied 21 for Cottage.

Cap and Gown seniors took over first place in its division by defeating Ivy Club, 66-23. Tony Lewis and Tommy Moore led Cap's scoring with 20 and 17 points respectively. Ivy's scoring was led by Mike Fuschini who tallied 13.

Tower Club made it two in a row by defeating slumping Cottage Club, 45-38, behind an effective fast break. Kenny Bullock and Junior Oldham consistently executed lay-ups as Cottage failed to get back on defense. Terry McEwen led Cottage with 24 points.

TWO MORE WINS

For Bantam Hockey Team. The Princeton Bantam hockey team increased its record to 9-4 last week with a pair of shutouts 4-0 over the Yale Bantams and 6-0 over the Lawrence Bantams. Goalie Dennis Frelinghuysen now has recorded four straight shutouts.

Against Yale, Carl Erdman scored a pair of goals, while Peter Schulter and Tom Moore added one each. Steve Judge has two assists, Moore and Erdman one each. Two goals each by Shawn Kennedy and Schulter and single tallies by Davey O'Connor and Moore accounted for the scoring against Lawrence.

High scorers on the team are Moore, a right wing, with 11 goals and 11 assists; Bill Erdman, 11 goals, 5 assists; and Carl Erdman, 6 goals, 4 assists. The two Erdmans and Moore have played on the same line for four seasons, first with the Princeton Peewees and then the Bantams.

So far this season, Princeton Bantams have outscored their opponents, 50 to 27. Four games remain.

HILL BEATS PDS

Lawrenceville Is Next. A strong Hill School sextet handed Princeton Day School's varsity hockey team its sixth defeat of the season last Wednesday, scoring twice in each period to win 6-1.

It was a far cry from the first game between the two opponents three weeks ago, when Hill had to come from behind in the last period to post a 4-3 win.

Hill dominated the game so completely that it tallied all six goals before PDS got its lone score by Tim Hamid with a minute remaining.

A return match with the South Orange Canadiens which probably would have helped the Panther's won and lost mark, was lost when the Canadiens couldn't make it to Princeton through Friday's rain. PDS is now 4-6, and faces the possibility of its first losing season since varsity play began.

Earlier, the Panthers won their fourth game against Chatham High School 11-1. Co-Captain Buzz Woodworth amassed 9 points in the game, with five goals and four assists, eclipsing Dunc Martin's first hat trick of the season.

The Panthers take the ice Thursday hoping to even the home-and-home series with Lawrenceville. The Larries took the first game 2-0.

All-Star Lacrosse Scheduled for Palmer Stadium

For the first time since the late '30s, when the colorful, action-packed Invitation Track Meets were held here, Princeton will offer an athletic event in Palmer Stadium on the Saturday of its June reunion weekend.

The 33d annual North-South All-Star Lacrosse Game will be held here on June 9. Contestants are the top seniors from all colleges where the sport is played, selected by the U. S. Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association.

Staging of the game here will mark the first time it has been hosted by an Ivy League college, and the second that it has been held in New Jersey. In 1962, it was played in Rutgers Stadium.

The first North-South game was held in Baltimore in 1940, and has been an annual event since that time with the exception of the war years of 1944 and '45. The South leads in the series, 17 to 12; there was a tie in 1946, and the game played in 1964, when the squads were selected by a draft and named the Americans and the Nationals is not counted.

While the game should prove popular with both lacrosse buffs and Princeton alumni, it will not approach the Invitation Track Meets as a popular attraction. Originally arranged to finance trips abroad by the Princeton-Cornell track team to face Oxford-Cambridge, the meets included the top athletes of the era in a variety of exhibition events and often drew close to 40,000.

As they increased in popularity, the cry of "commercialism" was flung in Princeton University's face and, despite the fact that on at least one occasion, tickets were issued free of charge, the Meet was abandoned in the interests of keeping the University free of the taint of flamboyant fund-raising.

Ski Races Postponed

The Mercer County Park Commission has announced that the annual ski races at Belle Mountain have been called off because of lack of snow.

Except for a freak snowfall in October, less than an inch of snow has fallen so far this season. But the Park Commission is nonetheless hoping that the races can be rescheduled for later in the winter. Even the snowmaking machines are powerless to help, as the temperature hasn't remained low enough to permit them to operate effectively.

"We want the ski race trophies to gather snow, not dust," said Richard J. Coffee, president of the Mercer County Park Commission. "And we're all concerned that, unless the weather changes, this will be the first year that we haven't been able to run the races."

FREE SERVICE TO POW'S

In Job Hunting. Free job placement and employment counseling were offered this week to returning Viet Nam POW's by Sanford L. Fox, President, Fox-Morris Associates, Inc., of Philadelphia. Fox-Morris has a branch office in the Princeton Service Center on Route 1.

"We believe that returning POW's will have difficulty in adjusting to civilian life, and the problem of finding a suitable job will be a major project for many of them," Mr. Fox said. "And we are in a position to help them." He is president of National Personnel Consultants, which maintains offices in more than 50 U. S. cities.

"NPC consists of more than 50 personnel agencies and can assist POW's in locating good jobs — or help them to prepare them for appropriate employment at no cost whatever to them. POW's interested in obtaining this free service can write to National Personnel Consultants, Pennsylvania Building, Philadelphia, Pa. 19102 for the NPC office nearest their home.

"Our offices are open to them, and through their families and friends, we invite POW's to call on us whenever they are ready to seek a job."

Fox-Morris Associates have been in the executive placement service for the past 11 years with offices in seven major cities. NPC was founded in 1933.

AGREEMENT SET

Between Systemedics, InfoMed. Systemedics, Inc., a medical information systems company headquartered here, and InfoMed, a Princeton based firm which provides information systems to hospitals in New York and New Jersey, have announced that Systemedics will market the InfoMed on-line Shared Hospital Information System through its marketing force of more than 100 sales representatives.

In addition, Systemedics plans to utilize InfoMed's Princeton Computer Center, thereby creating one of the largest medical data processing facilities in the country. Commenting on this new production capability, William Krause, Systemedics' President, said that InfoMed's System will permit Systemedics to furnish its present and future medical accounts with on-line capability.

Systemedics provides information processing and consulting services to 1200 medical facilities in 40 states. Computer facilities are maintained by the company in three regional locations, and four other locations on an affiliated basis.

The InfoMed system, started in 1969, is an on-line, customized data processing system designed for 50 to 500 bed hospitals. It furnishes hospitals with such services as Census, Billing, Statistics, Accounts Receivable, Accounts Payable, Payroll, Personnel Management, Inventory and General Ledger in addition to services developed to meet each hospital's particular administrative and reporting requirements.

Five-Day Commuter Sees Life Before Sunrise

"Most commuters bury their noses in the paper and don't see the world outside."

That's what Muriel Fath discovered in the five days she spent in January as a real, live commuter to New York.

What was meaningful to me was the whole experience — I wasn't going to a meaningful job" (temporary, full-time receptionist) "It was all so new! It could, of course, become a monumental bore, and I guess it is for most commuters."

Mrs Fath, who lives in the western section of the Borough, drove to Princeton Junction in the dark of early January mornings to catch the 6:59.

"I sought advice from a seasoned commuter," she laughs. "He warned me against the bus or the dinky: the dinky was simply not dependable, he said. He also told me the 6:59 was the best train. It got to New York on time, at 7:45, every morning."

"It's amazing how many people leave that early. But none of them seemed to notice the most remarkable thing: as the train went along, you could see the moon setting in the west, and the sun rising, big and round and red in the east! For a strange second, things were in balance — you almost wondered which direction you were traveling. But everyone's nose was buried in the morning paper — nobody saw it but me."

Birds perched on wires linked to train signal lights, are themselves a kind of signal, Mrs. Fath discovered. "The birds are like indicators: just before the signal lights change, they become excited. I noticed that people then begin, unconsciously, to move closer to the track. Are they aware of the birds' signal? I don't know."

Aside from its promptness, the 6:59 appealed to Mrs. Fath because its early arrival allowed her time for big, leisurely breakfasts in the hotels near her Fifth Avenue job. (Big breakfasts meant lunch-hours free for museum visits.)

"I jumped, with my cars, from one breakfast table to another, and it was absorbing! Eavesdropping on those breakfast conferences, I learned more about relationships in the business world than I could have learned from months in an office."

Commuting — would she do it again, for longer than five days?

"Yes — but a different kind of job, perhaps an assembly line in the garment industry; and a different time of day, perhaps a night job, in the right neighborhood But not, I think, for any longer than one week."

BRANCH OFFICE OPENED

By Princeton Savings. Princeton Savings and Loan Association opened a branch office last Saturday, at 2940 Main Street, Lawrenceville amidst festivities which included a choice of one of eight special gifts for those who opened savings account, souvenirs, and prizes.

The gala occasion marked the the first opening of a branch office for the Association, which has in its 57th year A few years ago Princeton Savings moved to its current location at 132 Nassau Street, from 19 Chambers Street, and experienced strong growth in assets which now total more than $40 million with total savings up 28% last year alone

The new office is the result of Princeton Savings' purchasing the assets of the Lawrenceville Savings and Loan Association.

William H Boozer president of Princeton Savings, noted that the gift offer for new accounts, as well as the prize drawing, will continue through Friday, March 2, to give everyone time to get to visit the new office Regular hours are from 9 to 4 Monday through Friday, plus Friday evening from 5 to 7 P M

"We hope this will prove a new convenience for our Lawrenceville neighbors, many of whom save with us now It will also enable us to increase our mortgage loan and home improvement loan services in the area", Mr. Boozer said.

HOUSING POLICY DUE

March Hearings Possible. A multi-family housing policy for both Princetons may be before the two governing bodies for approval soon, with public information meetings in March, if all moves well, says Hans K. Sander, chairman of the Princeton Regional Planning Board.

Mr. Sander told a recent housing seminar at Trinity Church that the board "must influence people in local government "so that multi-family policies are more than declarations on paper."

He pointed to the Township's 1968 Master Plan housing statement, proposing 200 apartments, adding "Five years later, nothing has yet been built."

The town must establish numbers, he explained, select sites and change zoning densities for certain areas, probably using the cluster concept to save open space and at the same time, provide room for apartments.

To "take the heat out" of discussions like those on the Township's proposed public housing project, Mr Sander suggested what he called "before the fact" assessments of a plan.

Such an evaluation would consider the impact of the project on Princeton's growth rate, the economic question of whether tax revenues were eaten up by additional services, environmental questions like water run-off and other matters like schools, water supply and roads.

"We need to develop a common language, so we can take these housing proposals out of the emotional," he commented.

Joseph P Monte, Borough Councilman, told the Trinity gathering that Princeton "knows housing is a priority, but doesn't want to do anything about it We must accept the fact that people in Princeton are suffering because of a majority attitude on discrimination Housing is a disguise for our other, deeper feelings."

Mrs. Albert Rees, new chairman of the Township's Citizens' Advisory Group on Housing, suggested that Princeton had "a wider obligation" to the region and to the state She warned that the community "must be prepared to do its share," or the courts may require municipal action.

"Housing IS a downtown priority," Mayor Cawley emphasized. "If people would turn out and say 'yes!' to housing, it would support municipal governing bodies in their decisions."

"WHAT'S MY LINE?"

We're Twins, Johnnie and Michael Hill, identical Princeton twins who are two-thirds of the singing Devonnes, will appear on the CBS show, "What's My Line?" next Monday at 1 p.m.

During the show, listeners may hear the Devonnes' recording of "Pick Up My Toys," with the third member of the trio, Louise Stephenson, and watch a karate demonstration by the twins. They learned karate in Princeton

The two Hills, who appear from time to time in various soap opera roles on television are also now modeling. They are in the February issue of "Essence" magazine.

18 Year Olds Help

Three new 18 year old voters who are students at Princeton High School worked at the polls Tuesday for the school board election.

Jeff Lewis, Beth McKeever and Lowell Johnson are the poll-workers Like the older voters who serve on school board election day, they received $12 pay Since all three are members of the Princeton High School Choir, they've decided to contribute their earnings to the Choir's trip to Europe fund.

TOWN TOPICS is delivered without charge to every home in Princeton Borough and Township and to part or all of West Windsor, Lawrence, Hopewell, Montgomery, South Brunswick and Franklin Townships and Griggstown. At all newsstands, including TOWN TOPICS' office, it costs a dime pionship over held. Four titles will be determined: national singles, national veterans (40 and over), national seniors (50 and over) and national team championship.

The squash facilities at Jadwin are the newest and finest in the nation. There are 12 single courts and two exhibition courts. The exhibition courts have a seating capacity of 350, while courts three through ten can seat 50 each.

In addition the 18 singles courts at the University's Dillon Gymnasium will also be used for first-round matches

FINAL TWO MEETS

For PHS Matmen. The Princeton High School wrestling team will end its dual meet season this week with two matches at home.

Notre Dame will be here Friday afternoon for a contest starting at 4 and wrestling power Hunterdon Central will be here Wednesday evening at 8 for the finale. A win over Notre Dame would insure the Little Tigers of a winning season. Following Monday's easy triumph over Hamilton, PHS is now 5-4-3.

In its first year in the sport, Hamilton provided little opposition for PHS forfeiting the 98, 106 and 136-pound classes The home team Blue and White then recorded six pins in the remaining nine bouts.

Scoring pins were captain Andy Foltiny, wrestling up a weight at 115 pounds, Chris Schneeweiss, Keith Holcombe, Bob Zinsmeister, Ken DeRemer, and Angelo Arcaro. Jeff Drummond, 168 pounder, and heavyweight Wes McClain won decisions.

Hamilton's only points came when Mike Holcombe of Princeton lost a decision in the 123-pound class.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

For Tennis Brochure Mailing. The mailing list of those who received the brochure of the Princeton Community Tennis Program outlining the schedule of group instruction has lengthened to more than 4,000.

Because the organization's spring brochure will be ready for assembling next week, it urges volunteer parents to call the tennis office and lend a hand with the annual task. The Community Tennis Program is a non-profit organization.

Newcomers to the Princeton area or those wishing to receive a copy of the brochure should write to its headquarters at 71 University Place or call 924-4343.

Obituaries

William H. English Jr., 73, of 116 Hunt Drive, formerly of New York City, died February 5 in Princeton Medical Center.

Mr. English held many executive positions in the New York business community. When he served as president of the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, he was the youngest president of any of the city's commodity or security markets.

At the time of his retirement, he had been vice-president and comptroller of the Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, and a trustee of the Franklin Savings Bank. He was former elder to New York's Central Presbyterian Church and trustee of Carson C. Peck Memorial Hospital, Brooklyn.

A native of Brooklyn, Mr. English was graduated from Princeton University in 1921. He served in the Navy during both World Wars.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Margaret C. English; two daughters, Mrs. Peter E. B. Erdman of Princeton and Mrs. George B. von Wichman of Anchorage, Alaska, and seven grandchildren.

The service will be held at 2:30 p.m. this Friday in Princeton University Chapel. Interment will be private. In lieu of flowers, the family suggests contributions to Princeton Medical Center.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Mather Funeral Home.

Maurice E. Pearce, 61, of 37 Wiggins Street, died February 4 at home. He was former owner of Maurice Pearce's Gentlemen's Country Clothes on Nassau Street.

Born in Plymouth England, he lived in Princeton for 60 years. In 1970 he retired and sold his store. During the past two years, he worked part time in Princeton University's Firestone Library.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Madge V. Pearce; one brother, William, in England; and a sister, Mrs. William Fisher of Coventry, Conn.

A family service was held, with arrangements made by the Mather Funeral Home. Memorial gifts may be made to the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad.

James M. M. Neville, 69, formerly of Hawthorne Avenue, died January 30 in Palm Beach, Fla. He was a novelist and newspaperman.

He was a graduate of Villanova Preparatory School, Malvern, Pa., and Princeton University, Class of 1925. He was a member of the baseball team and began writing articles for magazines while at Princeton. He published four novels, "Mud and Glory" (Duffield), "Rich Irish" and "Smooth with Women" (both Coward-McCann) and "Ladies Under Glass" (Lippincott), and was working on a fifth at the time of his death. He also published two non-fiction books, "Ladies in the Rough" with golfer Glenna Collett and "Football Today and Tomorrow" with William W. Roper, former Princeton coach.

During his newspaper career, Mr. Neville was with the Philadelphia Bulletin as a reporter and later as literary editor of the Sunday Bulletin; the Camden Courier and the Trenton Times. He became a roving feature writer for the Public Ledger Syndicate and the Herald-Tribune Magazine. During the 30s, he was a screen writer in Hollywood.

He was a member of the Nassau Club of Princeton and of the Spouting Rock Beach Association, Newport, R. I.

Surviving are a son, Warwick F. Neville of Palm Beach; a sister, Mrs. Sheldon L. Tinsley of Cranbury, and four grandchildren.

A memorial service was held at Bethesda-By-The-Sea Episcopal Church, Palm Beach.

Raymond H. Wesner, 76, of 21 East Delaware Avenue, Pennington, died February 2 in Mercer Hospital. He retired in 1970 as deputy commissioner of Banking for the State of New Jersey.

Born in Buckmanville, Pa., Mr. Wesner was a 50-year member of the New Jersey Banking Association and the Crescent Temple Shrine. He was past grand master of the New Jersey Knights Templar and past master of Amwell Lodge No. 12 F&AM.

He was an exempt fireman of Fleetwing Hook and Ladder Company No. 3 of Lambertville, and a member of Trinity Cathedral.

The husband of the late Grace K. Kesner, he is survived by a step-son, Donald Cheesman of Kenosha, Wis.; and a sister, Mrs. Chester Nixon of Holiday, Fla.

The service was held in the Van Horn Funeral Home. The Very Rev. Lloyd S. Chattin, deal of Trinity Episcopal Cathedral, officiating. Interment was in Rosemont Cemetery. Memorial gifts may be made to the Masonic Home in Burlington.

David S. Horton, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Horton of 33 Philip Drive, died February 1 after a lengthy illness.

He was a student at Community Park School.

Memorial gifts may be made to the Dr. Frank B. Ingraham Fund, c/o Dr. John Shillito, Children's Hospital, 300 Longwood Avenue, Boston Mass.

Mrs. Elaine H. Johnson, 48, formerly of Princeton, died February 5 in Cambridge, England, after a lengthy illness. She was the wife of Rev. Charles E. Johnson Jr.

She was graduated from Bryn Mawr College in 1946 with highest honors. During 1951 and 1952, Mrs. Johnson and her husband were on the faculty of the Hun School. During her marriage, her husband was Episcopal chaplain at Duke University and later both taught languages in Laurenburg, S.C., before going to Cambridge two and one-half years ago. The Rev. Johnson is a doctoral candidate at Cambridge University.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by three sons, Mark, Bruce and Sean, one daughter, Sara, all at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harland W. Hoisington Sr. of Castle Howard Court; and three brothers, Richard W. Hoisington of Princeton, David R. of Carmel Valley, Calif., and Harlan Jr. of Lebanon, N.H.

TRINITY CHURCH

THE LONG RANGE PLAN

"WITH THE MOVEMENT TOWARD DECENTRALIZATION in all areas of life, we find that the survival of the Christian Church again rests where it has for centuries — on the local parish church, where people will continue to gather for worship, education, pastoral care, fellowship and service," Rev. James R. Whittemore, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, said Sunday. Above are the church's long-range planning committee proposals for change in the physical plant: (At left)) the "Parish Life Center to be constructed in the area between Ivy Hall and the church a two-story building containing a parish hall and youth center; (at the center) in the church structure itself, relocation of the choir and organ to the rear, arrangement of the altar in the transept and adoption of the high altar area into a Chapel of Christian Unity seating 70 people; (in the "Adult area,") work and meeting space, a living room, offices, library; (at extreme right) a Christian education complex within Kacser and Pierce Halls. From this building a covered passage leads to the rectory, which will be renovated for the Trinity Counseling Service.

News Of The CHURCHES

MASTER PLAN PRESENTED

For Trinity Parish. "We cannot maintain for much longer the quality of our programs with ... facilities which thwart us in every way. People will wait teachers, singers, counselors, volunteers—as long as there is some hope for the future."

The Rev. James R. Whittemore, rector, summed on Sunday morning the present dilemma at Trinity Episcopal Church. A long-range plan for the parish was presented to an overflowing audience in Pierce Hall by lay leaders who have been studying parish service and facilities for the past three years.

The wide-ranging $1.5 million proposal seeks to solve the need for privacy for Trinity Counseling Service, space problems such as the current use of the church living room as the vicar's office and the overcrowding of Kacser and Pierce Halls during church school. The church lacks space for fellowship gatherings; the teens are relegated to basement and attic, and volunteers at a loss for a place to work. It also anticipates future needs.

Almost 150 Years Old. The old church, founded during the 1830's by a handful of people has grown by additions and outbuildings, now connected in a labyrinthine way. The new plan calls for alterations and renovations totalling an estimated $532,000; construction of a "Parish Life Center" $426,000, establishment of an "Outreach Fund" of endowments and grants, 250,000; a new organ, $100,000; equipment and furnishings $92,000, and a maintenance fund of $50,000.

Sunday's presentation was the first time parishioners saw the long range plan put together. Several hundred had participated in the planning over the years. During the fall the parish received situation reports from the five major segments of the church: Christian Education, Christian action, youth and fellowship, Trinity Counseling Service and worship and music.

Questionnaire. Speakers included A. Perry Morgan, Jr., chairman for long range planning; wardens Christopher R. P. Rodgers and Robert J. Shaw; Mrs. Margery Cuyler and Washington D. C. architect Kent Cooper. A three-page questionnaire was handed out, prepared with the help of George Gallup Jr.

"We are using the questionnaire to assess the pulse of the parish response," Mr. Shaw said. "By means of this survey, the rector, wardens and vestry will be seeking to ascertain the parish's feeling about the master plan." He said that plans and costs are still to be made final, as well as an evaluation of the parish's capacity to underwrite the cost.

"For each of the next five years, if everybody doubled our pledge, we'd be well on our way to that $1.5 million. I sincerely believe that the decision of whether to do it is 100 per cent correct, and I also have an open mind on HOW to do it."

Financing A Factor. Warden Rodgers told the parish he had some difficulty in concluding that the parish could afford the plan. "But when ever Trinity has been faced by a dire need or seen a real opportunity, the entire parish has responded. The building of All Saints Chapel stands out in my memory ... Individual after individual made sacrificial gifts. It will be in this same spirit that this master plan will become a reality."

There will be changes, improvements, in the plans, he said, many of them based upon the comments in the questionnaires.

The chairman, Mr. Morgan, discussed the growth of Trinity Church, the additions of buildings over the years, the current scope of activities.

He noted in a preface to the planners' brochure, that the plan "has grown out of well determined needs expressing both the present frustration of potential and the exciting possibilities of the parish's latent strengths ... A parish as large and diverse as Trinity is capable of wielding tremendous force in the formation of a truly Christian community."

SPECIAL EVENT SET

At Mt. Pisgah. A Supper Tea will be held from 4 to 7 p.m. this Sunday in Mount Pisgah A.M.E. Church. The Senior Choir is sponsor.

Mrs. Elizabeth Williams is choir president and the Rev. Leon Gipson Sr. is pastor. Donation is $1.75.

BIBLE SERIES STARTS

At Assembly of God Church. Rev. Russell Goodwin a Bible instructor, is conducting a series of discussions of "The Study of the Church of Jesus Christ in Our Time" at Princeton Assembly of God, North Harrison Street at Clearview Avenue.

The series began this Wednesday and continues for approximately six weeks, at 7:15 p.m. on Wednesdays.

TO HEAR EVANGELIST

At Bunker Hill Lutheran. Pastor Rosenius Norheim, evangelist for the Church of the Lutheran Brethren of America, will lead a series of services through February 28 beginning at 7 p.m. this Sunday at Bunker Hill Lutheran Church, Griggstown. Weekday services will be held at 8 p.m.

The Rev. Mr. Norheim is founder and director of the International Lutheran Gospel Hour of Pasadena, Calif. He will be assisted by tenor soloist Joe Erickson of Conrad Mont and Ron Nelson, pianist, a student at the Lutheran Brethren Seminary, Fergus Falls, Minn. The team is heard regularly on the Lutheran Gospel Hour broadcasts.

BULLETIN NOTES

"I'm OK, You're OK", a current best seller, will be discussed by the Rev. James R. Whitemore, rector of Trinity Church and the Rev. A. J. van den Blink, clinical pastoral director of the Trinity Counseling Service in a four week course beginning this Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the church. The course will explore through lecture and group participation some of the theological and psychological insights of the book. Inquiries are directed to the parish office.

A cooperative church school "Family Night" will be held at 5:30 p.m. this Sunday in First Presbyterian Church. All families are asked to bring a dessert that will feed at least two families. The program will be a "Love in."

The worship services at 9 and 11 will observe Boy Scout Sunday. James Wallace, a member of the church now a student at Princeton Seminary will preach. Members of Scout Troop 13 will take part in the service.

Curtis V. Larson, a student at Princeton Seminary, will lead the 10 a.m. worship at 10 a.m. in Christ Congregation on Sunday. In the Unitarian Church, the Rev. Robert L. Cope preaches at 10 on the topic, "Lincoln's Second Inaugural Reconsidered."

In First Presbyterian Church of Dutch Neck, Rev. James S. Weaver will preach at 9:30 and 11 on "What is Your Ministry?" Jack Keeton of the Boy Scouts of America, will lead the 10:05 a.m. dialogue.

THREE ELEGANT HOMES IN PRINCETON—TAKE YOUR CHOICE!

Brand new colonial

How would you like to move into a brand new 6 bedroom Colonial with 3700 square feet of living space? This house is nearing completion in one of Princeton's most desirable neighborhoods. Many special features such as central air conditioning, 3 zoned heating, screened porch, fireplaces in the living room and family room. Large kitchen with breakfast area, 3½ baths, 1½ acre lot.

Charming home in the woods

4 bedroom Colonial on a lovely wooded 2 acre lot in excellent condition. Many good features such as fireplace in master bedroom (plus one in the living room), screened porch, wall to wall carpeting and central air. Private setting with nominal upkeep outside in an area of exceptionally fine homes. $119,000

House with a view

You can say much good about this impressive Williamsburg Colonial, but perhaps the most outstanding feature is the spectacular view it offers of the Hopewell Hills. Even in the winter it is beautiful but come spring with hundreds of dogwoods and other mature trees it is even more breathtaking. Add to the view a custom built home with special features such as hand hewn beams, wide pine floor boards and a walk-in fireplace. Upstairs, 5 bedrooms, 3½ baths and room for expansion in attic area. Perfect for a large family. Offered with 2 acres. (Additional lot available.)

Here are some important real estate terms that you should know: (1) Abstract of Title—the Abstract of a Title is a condensed history of the title of a piece of property consisting of a summary of the various links in the title chain. This history also includes a record of all the liens, charges or encumbrances that may affect a certain piece of property. (2) Blanket Mortgage—A Blanket Mortgage is a single mortgage that covers more than one piece of real estate property.

If you want to know where to go for excellent real estate assistance, come to WALTER B. NOWE INC., 1 Palmer Sq. (924-0095), Pennington (737-3301) or W. Windsor (799-1100). Open 9-9. Sat. 9-5. Sun. 1-5. All forms of real estate sales and services.

Saving to Educate your Children?

Are you sure that the money you are saving in the bank will buy as much education 10 years from now as you hope? Don't forget about inflation! Compare your food budget of 10 years ago with today's. Does compound interest make your money grow as fast as inflation erodes its buying power?

Perhaps you should consider real estate investment. Cash in on inflation yourself! Real estate in the Princeton area keeps going up in price even when the stock market goes down.

We have a special investment plan that can generate long-term capital gains so fast that you may reasonably expect your money to double in 12½ years. We cannot guarantee that, to be sure, but we have some mighty impressive evidence that we'd be pleased to show you, at no obligation to you, of course.

WHAT'S NEW THAT'S OLD . . .

Trundle or truckle bed. Fashioned on the same line as the "under-eaves" bed is a piece of furniture descended from the Middle Ages. In the early 1800's, it was the custom to roll them beneath the larger bed during daytime hours. From the earliest examples to days of Andrew Jackson there has been practically no variety in outline or design. We have two!

A Vermont farmhouse has yielded us one charming example. Another, a local family heirloom.

A FULL-SERVICE, PROFESSIONAL REAL ESTATE OFFICE OFFERS YOU SOME VERSATILE LISTINGS:

IN LOVELY EDGERSTOUNE . . . 1.57 acres of tall trees and pond to enhance a brick and frame two-level contemporary featured in HOUSE BEAUTIFUL just eleven years ago when it was born! Flagstone foyer, 28x15 sunken living room with fireplace, overlooking the gardens, study with fireplace, three enormous bedrooms and two full baths, a St. Charles kitchen, breakfast room and jalousied porch. Downstairs features a finished recreation room with fireplace, utility room, lots of storage space and a full bath. Outside barbeque. Two car garage, and devoted sole owners who have given it loving care. Be among the first to see this! $165,000

IN PRINCETON'S SHADYBROOK, a stone's throw from the lake, A Geiger-built stone and frame split level, centrally air conditioned with a jalousied porch from which to contemplate the exquisite (and private) yard! Three bedrooms, one full and two half baths. Living room with fireplace, dining room, country kitchen with beamed ceiling. One best buy. $68,500

JUST A COMMUTER'S JOG TO THE JUNCTION STATION and the Best Buy . . . A beautiful Benford colonial with all the living space an executive could ask for! Living room, dining room, center hall, panelled study or sixth bedroom, eat-in kitchen, family room with fireplace, powder room, laundry room, mud room . . . and we can go on and on! The second floor includes master bedroom with full bath, four other bedrooms and a full hall bath. Centrally air-conditioned, corner lot, two-car garage. $67,900

SHADOWSTONE LANE, LAWRENCEVILLE . . . a superbly reproduced Williamsburg colonial with every modern feature . . . total electric heating and central air-conditioning, living room with fireplace; dining room with chair-rail; large country kitchen opening to screened porch and inviting brick patio; family room panelled in Mediterranean cedar with beamed ceiling, wet bar, and full brick fireplace; den or fifth bedroom; powder room and utility room. Quaint second story features a large master bedroom suite in sunshine yellow with dressing area and full bath; three other bedrooms and bath. Full panelled lower level with tiled floor and oodles of storage area. Within walking distance of the Village Bakery. Occupancy negotiable. $118,500

BEAUTIFUL BALCORT DRIVE, PRINCETON . . . one of the most fantastic buys to come down the pike in a long time! An acre and a half wooded lot on which rests one of Sandcan's nicest four-bedroom, two and a half bath colonials. Centrally air-conditioned, just five years young, and ready for your personal touches! This has just come on the market and will sell in a wink. Priced realistically and unbelievably at $88,900

A DOLL HOUSE ON ALMOST TWO ACRES OF WOODS AT THE CORNER OF CARTER AND COLD SOIL, LAWRENCE TOWNSHIP! Built about 40 years ago when materials consisted of plaster, handcarved moulding, and luxuries like that . . . here's an individually styled colonial that can take a honeymoon couple or a growing family. Nicely restored with a Quaker Maid kitchen and two full baths PLUS a finished panelled, carpeted attic. Basics include a living room with fireplace, dining room, screened porch and four bedrooms. Detached garage. $57,500

EVERYONE DREAMS OF LIVING ON SYCAMORE LANE, MONTGOMERY TOWNSHIP . . . and to add to the dreams of a modern man, here's a genuine, real life contemporary . . . built five years ago of redwood, blue stone and Anderson windows . . . offering almost 2000 square feet of living space, centrally air-conditioned and divided among living room, dining room, kitchen with barbeque, family room with corner floor-to-ceiling stone fireplace, five bedrooms and three full baths. All on one floor but with a downstairs that could easily be finished into a second story of playrooms, offices or in-law apartment. Lovely, easy landscaping. $84,500

IN THE WOODS AT PINE KNOLL, LAWRENCE TOWNSHIP . . . One of Sandcan's finest — No. 6 — backing up to the golf course, a wonderful family colonial, four bedrooms, two and a half baths, living room, dining room, family room with fireplace and comfortable eat-in kitchen. Many extras. Realistically priced. $49,500

HOW ABOUT A RENTAL?

TAYLOR TERRACE, HOPEWELL BOROUGH. Four bedroom, two-bath bi-level, in-town lot with nice back yard. Living room, dining area, kitchen, 1½ baths. City water. Immediate occupancy. N. Y. commuting. $400/mo.

FOR VERY SPECIAL CLIENTS ONLY . . .

Twenty-three acres of total seclusion offering a most magnificent castle-like contemporary just a few years young with more of everything than you have ever imagined. Call us for full particulars and afternoon tea in the elegant drawing room. By appointment only. $425,000

A Lincoln engraving in original frame

A collection of books on Lincoln and the Civil War

Civil War letters—we would like to sell as an entity but two in particular could be separated—one is on the choice of voting between Lincoln and "Little Mac" and the other is a very special letter on the bravery of the black troops (a tremendous and authentic letter which should be of great importance to those interested in this particular subject).

Two French 18th Century side chairs which need some restoration.

Twin oil paintings of George and Martha Washington in original oval gold frames.

A Washington letter we think is probably a fake but it is framed in blue Moroccan leather with royal blue satin.
